FOUNDER OF AMERICAN LUTHERAN CHURCH

Henry Melchior Muhlenberg came to America in 1742.

A minister of tremendous vitality, he founded the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, of which the United Lutheran Church of America has been an outgrowth; he built the Augustus Lutheran Church at Trappe, Pennsylvania, which church is still standing; and he inspired three sons to become outstanding figures of the Revolutionary period.

Major General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, from whose lips came those famous lines, “There is a time for all things, a time to preach and a time to pray; but there is also a time to fight and that time has now come,” was not only a great soldier but was an inspiring minister of the gospel and a leading statesman.

MUHLENBERG COLLEGE

ALLENTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

May 1, 1942

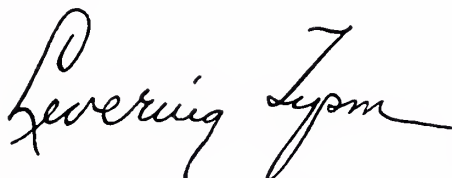

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1943:

You do not realize it but someone might just as well tell you now that when alumni of Muhlenberg gather in the next few decades you will be referred to as "war babies." That is, you are members of a class whose academic experience was interrupted and affected by this greatest of all wars. This name will follow you through the remainder of your natural lives. You could not escape, if you would, the effects of the influences which are working upon every feature of existence in the world today. War leaves its trail of destruction and death and upheaval. Its scars are the kind that remain forever,—physical, intellectual, and spiritual reminders of terrible pathological conditions which, from time immemorial, have afflicted the human race and which erupt with tragic historic frequency. You are a small file in an enormous army of youth who are the latest victims of this cosmic disease.

This condition very likely seems more deplorable to older generations than it does to you. For it is with a great deal of satisfaction that I have come face to face with the clear-eyed courage the present generation of young people possesses. They are not bemoaning their fate. They are looking the future squarely in the eye without flinching, and their whole attitude, to me, seems to be "We're good enough. We can take it. We've been given a mean job but we'll clean it up." The very spirit you have shown gives those of us who are remaining behind year after year the fortitude to carry on for your successors. If we can continue to breed such spirit, whatever we do will be worth while.

So may God bless and keep you sturdy and on a straight course to victory,—a victory of far more importance than a mere military triumph,—a victory that will make this world a better place than it ever has been to live in. It must bring that result, for He can not will it otherwise.

Cordially yours,

ACTIONS OF ADMINISTRATION

During this year the ideals of the Muhlenbergs constantly have been before us. These ideals are particularly exemplified in the Administration of Muhlenberg. Taking up their already arduous work with new zeal, the administrative staff made great strides in the past year.

A resident campus physician—a goal long sought for—became a reality when Dr. Frederick Walp took up quarters in the Arcade infirmary. To the office, too, came more assistance. Rosalie Moran, secretary to the Registrar, Elizabeth Lux, secretary to the Alumni Secretary, and Avatine Yarnall were added to the staff to facilitate the work of the Administration.

A new Alumni Secretary, Mr. John Wagner, began work this year. In addition to the contacts maintained with all alumni, the Alumni Association this year sent copies of the WEEKLY to all men in our armed forces. The Placement Bureau operated by the Alumni Office has, as in times past, been helpful to Muhlenberg men before and after graduation.

Four men were added to the faculty during the year. Mr. Robert Boyer and Mr. Winfield Keck became members of the Physics department. Mr. Karl Wittrich is the newest member of the Social Science department. The newest arrival on the campus was Mr. Andrew Erskine of the English department.

Through the Director of Public Relations Muhlenberg is gaining the place in public esteem which it rightly deserves—a fit student body, though few. From this office are also controlled all Muhlenberg publications which carry the story of the college to an ever-widening circle.

MR. EDMUND S. KEITER, A.M., Business Manager; MR. OSCAR F. BERNHEIM, A.B.,
Treasurer; MR. WILLIAM S. FINK, Bursar.

EXEMPLIFY PRINCIPLES OF MUHLENBERGS

The national emergency brought a strain to all departments of the college, but particularly to the Business and Treasurer's offices. By much thought and hard work, these offices have done much to carry the school through these times.

Mr. Oscar Bernheim, though forced by illness to be away from his duties for a short while, returned in time to complete his thirty-ninth year of service to the school. As in the past, he was assisted in his work by the capable Mr. William Fink, bursar.

Mr. Edmund Keiter handled the business relations and purchasing of supplies of the college for the second year. To all those with whom he came in contact, Mr. Keiter brought an affable pleasantness into the chilled matters of business.

Mrs. Meta Ricker, secretary to Dr. Tyson, was once more the strong right arm on which our president leaned, burdened as he was with war time duties. Miss Anne DeLong, secretary to Mr. Keiter, helped immeasurably in the smooth functioning of that office. Miss Helen Mohn, secretary to Dean Horn and Dr. Wright, finished her last year of capable work as she made plans to be married near the end of the school year.

Though many dark clouds loom on the horizon of liberal education, there are many silver linings. The CIARLA is but expressing the confidence of all these modern members of the Muhlenberg family when it prophesies a bright future for Muhlenberg and the Muhlenbergs' traditions.

MR. GORDON B. FISTER, Director of Public Relations; MR. HARRY A. BENFER, A.M., Registrar and Dean of Freshmen; MR. PAUL J. GEBERT, A.B., Assistant Registrar; MR. JOHN H. WAGNER, A.B., Alumni Secretary.

In Memoriam

"His words will remain as the stars in the heavens forever" is the keynote of the 1941 CIARLA dedication to Stephen G. Simpson, our late congenial English professor. And we of Muhlenberg have now come to a realization of the unerring truth of these words. Providence has gloriously rewarded his life-long work in equal measure to the knowledge which he generously placed in the reach of all.

BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

TO THE CLASS OF 1942:

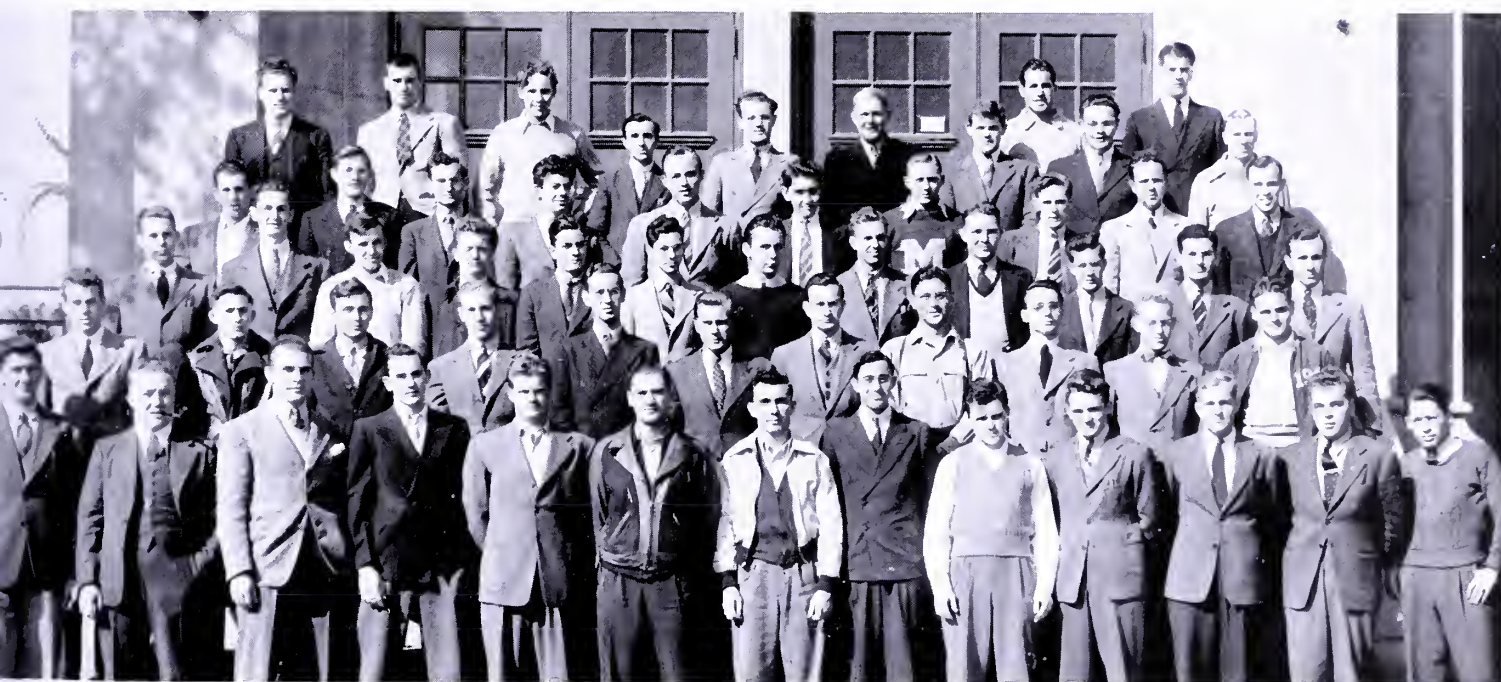

In 1742 Henry Melchior Muhlenberg organized a Lutheran synod out of which gradually grew a liberal arts institution which came to be known as Muhlenberg college. We, the class of 1942, are privileged with the honor of taking an active part in the celebration of the Bicentennial in honor of the Muhlenberg family. Which family inspired the college which has supplied a spirited college life filled with activity and educational training for us during the past four years. Regret, gratitude, satisfaction, conviction, and enlightenment will be sensed by all as we pass together for the last time from the shadows of Muhlenberg college.

Regretfully we drop out as leaders of a forward-moving student body in a forward-moving college. With gratitude for the services of and association with the faculty, administration, and our fellow students we say farewell to our Alma Mater. Because of the enviable record which we have established, I feel sure that Muhlenberg College will be proud of the class of 1942. Its members have already shown the organizing ability of Henry Melchoir Muhlenberg, the courage and fortitude of Major General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, the brilliance, cleverness, and judiciousness of Frederick Muhlenberg, and the faith, hope, and charitableness of Henry Ernst Muhlenberg.

May another class so endued be available to participate in another Centennial celebration.

Sincerely yours,

ALEXANDER W. BUSBY,
President of the Class of 1942.

OR SENIOR RESPONSIBILITIES

TO THE CLASS OF 1943:

We have been living together on the campus for three years. One thing which has served to bind us together as a class is that intangible factor called school spirit. A dominating influence in this abstraction is an animal—the mule—which upon examination is found to have a much broader application than to serve only as a mascot or a nickname. We have not come to know it, its qualities, and its significance as we should, as we must.

A mule is a hybrid—the composite of the best of two animal strains—especially fitted for the work it is to do. And so we, too, are—or should be—hybrids. When each of us came to Muhlenberg he brought with him ideas and ideals inherent in his way of life. On the great bartering ground of the college campus each of us experienced a change—for some subtle, for others marked.

Any mule skinner will tell you of the stubbornness of this beast. Famous told tales about the balky characteristics of this obstinate creature still issue from the mouths of story tellers. Certainly one with such an overabundance of stubbornness can afford to be generous with it, and a share of it can be ours if we wish to borrow it permanently. It can indeed become an indispensable part of our make-up in days when the abandonment of ideals and the forsaking of precepts are prevalent. There are going to be tests now and forever. If we are firmly convinced that we uphold the right, then we should possess enough mule-like stubbornness to make us hold fast to those principles we deem worthwhile.

There we have it, gentlemen. We, like the mule, are hybrids, especially fitted for a particular task. A liberal dash of its stubbornness will cement us firmly to our ideals.

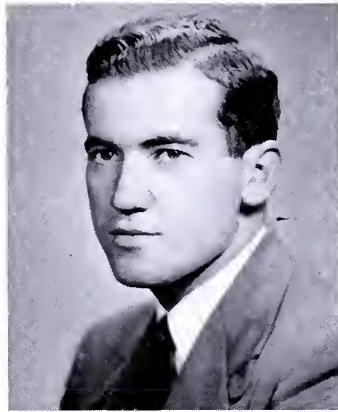

Sincerely yours,

PAUL L. CANDALINO,

President of Junior Class

In Memoriam

When we retrospect on our four years at Muhlenberg, one of the most sorrowful events we shall recall was the failure of John Griffith to return after his freshman year. Although Jack was a member of the class of 1943 for only one year, he smiled his way into the hearts of every man in the class. It is with sincere regret that we note this single death among the members of the class of 1943.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS OF 1944

ACCELERATED PROGRAM INFLUENCES

TO THE CLASS OF 1944:

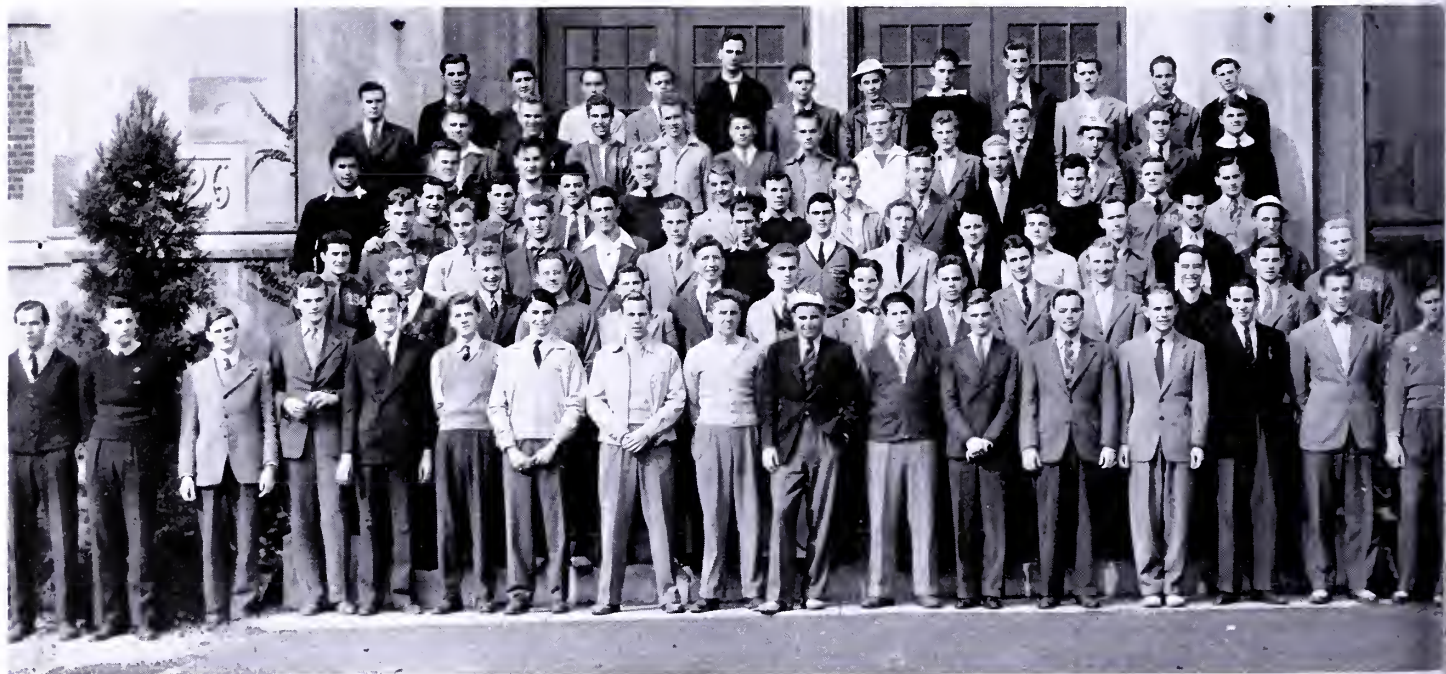

This year is an important one for our country and for Muhlenberg. Events of last December are at last making themselves manifest here in our college life. Because of the turn of events, the college has had to adopt an accelerated program. This new program and our country's need for men in the armed forces are going to have a vast effect on us as a social unit.

For various reasons there is a small number of us who will not return to college after the completion of this second year. However, it is something else which will cause us to separate from our unit. During this summer there are some of us who are going to take advantage of Muhlenberg's accelerated program. Some portion of our class is going to be graduated almost a year ahead of schedule, while, on the other hand, freshmen who accelerated are going to be graduated with the remaining members of our class. Therefore, in the near future the tendency will be for us to become scattered. But although our separation may become an actuality; still, on turning the pages of this book, we may regain the happy associations that we knew during our stay at school.

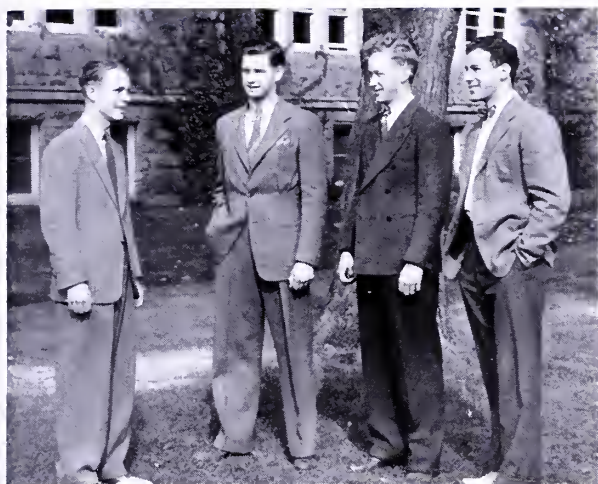

However, through all these uncertainties and adjustments, the college man assumes more responsibilities. The national emergency is constantly placing us in new positions, and the time is not far distant when we may have to serve our country in a more active way. Whatever our future may be, all of us are indebted to Muhlenberg college for the services it has rendered to us. Whether it be only one year or four years spent at Berg, each of us is somewhat better for the opportunity of attending this school. Our sophomore class is not unmindful of the services rendered to it by the faculty and administration, and we are deeply grateful.

Sincerely yours,

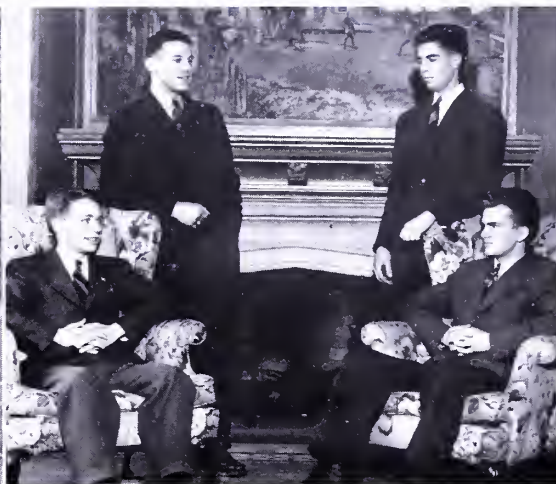

JAMES HEMSTREET,
President of Sophomore Class.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS OF 1945

ENTRANCE OF UNITED STATES IN WAR

TO THE CLASS OF 1945:

"If you have built castles in the air,
Your work need not be lost;
That is where they should be.
Now put the foundations under them."

—LEE.

You and I met in the beginning of this academic year and together we formed what in normal years would have been a typical freshman class at college. We came from many high schools and from many towns and certainly with many varied interests. During high school we may have dreamed of "castles in the air," and we came to Muhlenberg College to secure and make firm these castles. We thought we would have made a long stride toward our future permanent foundations with the completion of our first year.

But then came the fast-moving events of December 7, 1941, and we, as a class and as citizens of a country at war, were transformed from a typical freshman class into a complex and slightly befuddled one. Our education from then on became more significant and we were surrounded by swiftly changing and sometimes bewildering conditions. These conditions in some cases changed our whole outlook and as a result we were hardened and toughened by the very impact of these affairs.

However with all this madness and human lustfulness, I would like you to remember that "this too shall pass away" and once again we shall take up our proper places and return to the castles in the air.

Yours truly,

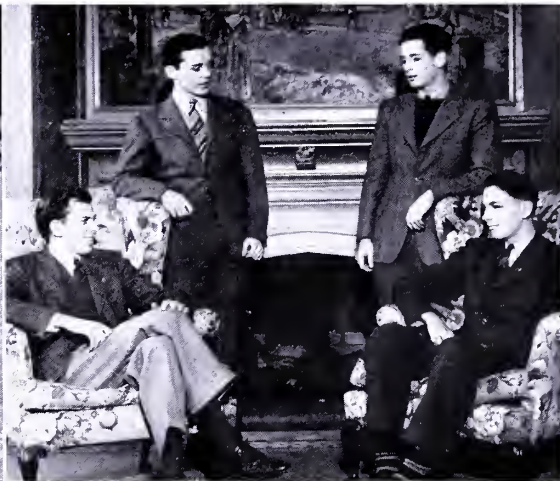

PAUL DONALD GEBERT,
President of Freshman Class.

John Peter Gabriel Muhlen-berg, who changed his minister's robe for the tremendously active life of a rebel soldier and yet retained a high moral code.

In Memoriam

It is with most profound respect that we recall our beloved former track mentor, Albert McGall. His four year presence on the campus of Muhlenberg College was a constant source of inspiration to those fortunate men associated with him. The "Coach" was more than just a great track man: he was a gentleman skilled in the arts, a lover of American youth, a philosopher of all that is good.

ADMINISTRATION GUIDES ATHLETICS

Four coaches were lost to the Muhlenberg Athletic Administration during the past year—one by death, and three by resignation.

When the student body returned to college in the fall of 1941, Coach Albert McGall, beloved track and cross-country mentor, failed to return to assume his duties because of his demise during the summer vacation. Although Muhlenberg has sorely missed Coach McGall, the guiding of his squads has gone to the capable hands of F. Ernest Fellows who learned a great deal of track knowledge from Muhlenberg's "grand old man of track."

Coach Phil F. Hillen—varsity baseball, freshman basketball, and assistant football coach for five years—also left the Muhlenberg coaching ranks, when he resigned from the staff on January 25, 1942 to go into business.

Howell Scobey, varsity wrestling coach, had to resign his position because of his duties as an employee of the Bethlehem Steel Company. Carl Frankett took over the coaching of wrestling for the 1941-1942 season.

Albert Simpson also had to resign as freshman football coach and his position was taken by Louis DeRosa, '41. Nelson Graham, '41, aided Coach De Rosa in developing the freshmen. Graham especially devoted his time to the frosh backfield.

Although next year will undoubtedly show a curtailment of intercollegiate sports because of America's entrance into the world conflict, the past year recorded by the 1943 CIARLA has proved to be one of Muhlenberg's most successful years in intercollegiate as well as intramural athletics.

Besides the varsity baseball, track, and tennis teams, which performed so well in the Spring of 1941, a freshman tennis team represented the Cardinal and Grey for the first time. This freshman squad joined the three frosh teams—basketball, football, and wrestling—which were already representing Muhlenberg in contests with yearling squads of other colleges.

The fall sports, football and cross-country, finished the 1941 season with good records, while the 1941-1942 winter sport squads, basketball and wrestling, ended their seasons with the best records compiled by Muhlenberg teams in these sports.

Over a third of the members of the student body competed in at least one of the sports offered in the 1941 intramural setup to make up the largest number of students that were ever enrolled in this program.

Intramural sports offered included basketball, softball, tennis, and volleyball. A track meet was also conducted near the end of the season in which several hundred students participated.

FOUR COACHES LEAVE MUHLENBERG STAFF

A brief statistical resume of the 1941-1942 sports season gives emphasis to the statement that Muhlenberg's intercollegiate sports year was a successful one.

In spring sports the tennis team was far out in front as it conquered sixteen foes and fell only twice. The baseball team had a fair season with six wins and eight losses, while the cindermen did well with a two and two record. However, the setting up of five new records, and its second place showing in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference meet is an indication of the calibre of the team. The frosh tennis team completely outclassed the four opponents faced and finished the season with four and none.

Our fall sports, including football and cross-country, found the eleven either very good or very bad, but the conquering of two arch rivals, Lehigh and Gettysburg, made the six and four record look better than it might otherwise have looked. Under Coach Ernest Fellows the cross-country team won two and lost out twice. The freshman football squad conquered Gettysburg and tied Lehigh in the only two games of its brief schedule.

Thirteen successive victories highlighted the basketball season in Muhlenberg's major winter sport. Finishing with 16 and 7, the quintet gained a second place position in the Eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate League. The grappling squad came up with four victories in eight starts and brought back from Gettysburg a Middle Atlantic wrestling champion in sophomore Danny Prescott. The frosh basketball and wrestling squads completed .500 seasons as the former gained five wins out of ten starts and the latter finished the season with two and two.

ATHLETICS FROM APRIL 1941 TO APRIL 1942

BASEBALL SQUAD ENDS SEASON

Wetherhold gets his man

Starting off the 1941 season with no seniors and no definite ideas as to what to expect from the catching department made it almost impossible for sports writers to predict how the baseball Mules would fare during their fourteen-game schedule. In addition, with freshmen eligible in only half of these games, the Mules were hampered in having only ten other eligible players, the extra man being a pitcher.

The team had enjoyed a 7-and-4 record the season before, but several valuable men had been lost by graduation. Weakened much by a summertime illness, all-around Ed Smithers, '41, who would have been captain if he had been able to return to school, was also absent. In the pre-season practice sessions Coach Phil Hillen's main complaint was based upon what seemed to be a dearth of hitters.

It was such a team which opened its season at East Orange, N. J. where they met the Upsala Vikings on April 21. But none of the expected troubles cropped up in this game in which freshmen were allowed to play. Freshman Jim Wetherhold performed well as catcher of the pitches of Ray Beck and Ken Stone, also freshmen, and of junior Charlie Trinkle. When Beck left the mound after five innings, he left as ultimate victor, the Mules then leading by six runs. Tuss Becker, first baseman, swatted a home run, a triple, and single in five times at bat; Normie Morris, captain and shortstop, poked three singles in his four trips to the plate.

Thus, the season was launched impressively, and the Mules followed up by trouncing Lehigh and Ursinus during that same week. In the former game Tuss Becker had again come through, this time hitting a homer, two doubles, and singles in five times up. Peter Gorgone, right fielder, his buddy, had four for four, including a double. The score at the beginning of the ninth inning, was 11-4 in favor of Muhlenberg. Before the end of the game, however, Lehigh had equalled the Mules' total of sixteen hits and had fallen short of a tie by but one run. What really saved the Mules that day was four double plays made by Mule infield members Morris, Jamieson, and Becker. The Mules led Ursinus,

WITH SIX WINS AND EIGHT LOSSES

3-1, at the start of the ninth, and a juggled relay on an attempted double play cost the Mules a run. However, a force play then ended the game.

Three games played; three games won. The Mules took the field with unbounded confidence against strong Lafayette, but they slunk off stung by a 10-1 loss. Lafayette had combed the Berg pitching for twelve hits and had capitalized on each and every Mule error, mechanical or mental, of which there were many. Lebanon Valley suffered a seven-run second inning by the Mules, but came back to win out 11-7 behind fourteen hits and twelve Mule errors. The Mules then beat Swarthmore on only four hits, as Charlie Trinkle allowed but five to the foe. Jamieson, who also doubled, squeezed home the winning run in the eighth inning.

This made it four wins, two losses, and a stage set for a six-game victory moratorium. Juniata, Gettysburg, Dickinson, Lehigh, Penn State, and Temple—all defeated the local squad which had good pitching and good defensive work, but each in its turn. The hitting power was much in evidence, as Clifford, Houser, Becker, Gorgone, and Crampsey piled up impressive averages. A side-light, which made the saddened Mules feel a bit better mentally, was the antics of Lefty Myers on the mound. Myers pitched well against Juniata and Penn State up to a certain point in each game. In each he ran into a little trouble about half-way through, and then found it too galling to substitute Coach Hillen's strategy for his own. On each occasion he calmed down somewhat after a soothing but melancholy shower bath.

And so, dismally but doggedly, the Mules faced Bucknell, whom they outlasted after twelve torrid innings of utilizing every play which the rule book allows. Houser hit three for four and batted in four of the runs; Gorgone had three for five. Houser then closed the season by smiting Penn A. C. for three for five, with Crampsey collecting a homer and a double and Barbieri contributing a triple and a double. The Mules pleased but at the same time wearied a handsome Alumni Day crowd.

TENNIS SQUAD GAINS SIXTEEN

Muhlenberg's tennis team undoubtedly made the most enviable record of any of the athletic contingents sporting the cardinal and the gray this spring. In the total of 18 matches played, the spring sportsters contrived to drop only two of them to end a splendid campaign—and in neither of the defeats were they hopelessly out-classed.

The seasonal average stands at .889. In the singles department 106 matches were contested; of these, 88 were chalked up in the credit column and 18 listed on the deficit side. Of the 51 doubles matches 40 were scored as wins and 11 as losses.

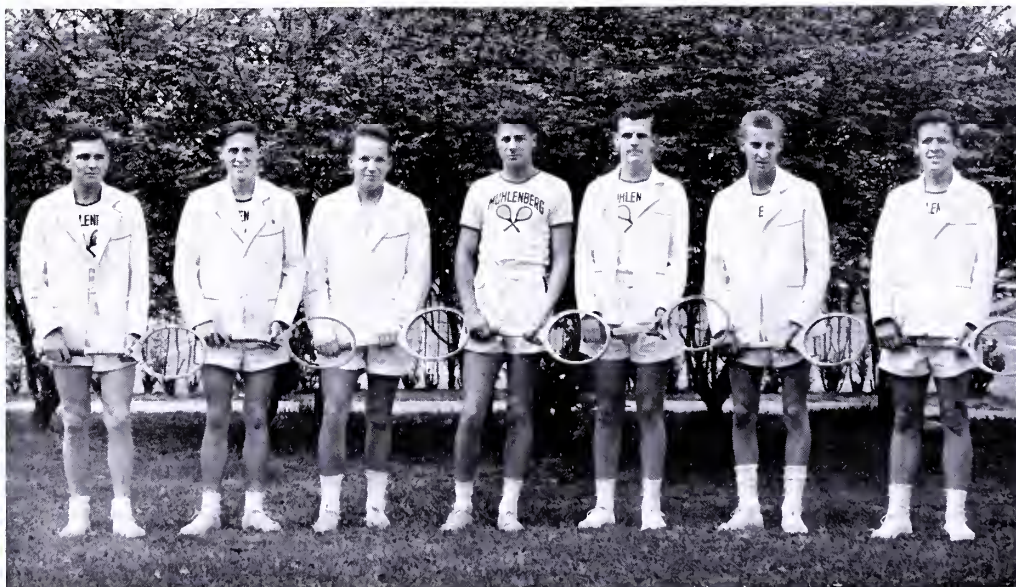

Jack Minogue, the team's number two player, annexed the singles scoring wreath with a perfect 18 for the same number of matches played. The second and third place spots were filled by Jack Schantz, number three, and Ray Moats, number one, respectively. The former claimed a 17 for 18 record, while the latter took his ribbon with a 16 for 18 count. The rest of the men placed in the following order: Ed Klink, 14 for 18; Bob Minogue, 13 for 18; and Ralph Berry, 10 for 16.

To the combination of Ray Moats and Jack Minogue is attached the title of the perfect doubles duo, for in their 18 matches this season they did not once feel the sting of defeat. Close behind the leaders was the Schantz-B. Minogue couple, scoring wins for 13 of the 16 matches played. In close order followed Klink-Lorish, having 7 for 13, Klink-Berry with a 1 for 3 record, and Schantz-Berry showing a 1 for 1 record.

So much for the bare statistics of the case; now down to a match by match recapitulation. It was during the Easter holidays that the racquet-wielders first picked up their weapons to venture into battle. The first three matches were played and won in foreign territory south of the Mason-Dixon Line. Washington and Lee, Emory and Henry, and Johnson City Teachers college were all victims of the Mule tennisters.

Returning to Pennsylvania soil once more, the Cardinal and Gray array worked to eke out a 5-4 victory over Swarthmore. The following week the netsters dropped a heart-breaking match to a strong Lehigh university squad, 5-4, for the first loss of the year. On the day the team rallied to volley a Gettysburg contingent off the courts to the tune of 9-0.

On the 28th and 30th of April the team marshalled all of its forces to administer trouncings to Ursinus and Albright, 8-1 and 9-0, respectively. Playing on consecutive days from the first of May onward, the tennis squad worked to pile up three additional victories. Lafayette fell, 7-2; Rutgers and Dickinson were both polished off the clay surfaces to the merry note of 9-0. Still in the victory circuit, the Berg courtsters met and vanquished Bucknell, the final scoring standing at 6-3.

Tightening its collective belts, the squad settled down to face another three day grind, finally steam-rolling to victory over Lebanon Valley, Moravian, and Haverford. The final counts, in the same order, stood at 9-0, 9-0, and 7-2. The last two victories of the season came at the expense of Franklin and Marshall and Temple university, the former losing by 5-4 and the latter by 8-1. In the final match of the season the law of averages made its presence felt as the Muhlenberg racquetmen bowed to the Penn State Lions, 6-3.

PAUL KEMMERER
Manager

Track and field men at Muhlenberg turned in a fair piece of work during the 1941 season as they split four dual meets and took second place in the Eastern College Athletic Conference gathering. Several champions were crowned here and many new records were set.

Lehigh visited Allentown on April 19 to furnish the opposition for the Mules' initial effort. Throughout the meet the teams were very close and the last event of the day, the discus throw, decided the contest. Here too, the margin was close: at last it was agreed that Blair Krimmel's 110 foot 5 inch toss had outdistanced Gus Riemondi's by a scant $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches; this gave Muhlenberg 5 points and the meet. The score was 65-61.

Paul Kidd scored 12 points to lead the team, while Art Hill scored two firsts in the half mile and mile and John Psiaki took the two mile. It was the first defeat ever handed to Lehigh by a Muhlenberg track squad.

Four days later Lafayette brought in a strong squad and outdistanced the Berg men, 88-38. Hill and Psiaki again scored firsts in their races for the only Cardinal and Gray 5-pointers of the afternoon, as Lafayette led in 11 out of 14 events.

A quartet composed of Captain Paul Humanick, Ray Schmoyer, Jim Keiter and Art Hill journeyed to Philadelphia to represent Muhlenberg at the Penn Relays. John Psiaki went along to compete in the 2 mile run. The relay team ran third behind West Chester and Rochester in the mile event, while Psiaki placed poorly in his race. He had run a blazing 4:30 first mile, second only to Fred Wilt of Indiana who won in 9:17, but faded in the second mile.

On May 3, Muhlenberg was host to the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference and placed second behind Gettysburg by a 55-43 $\frac{5}{18}$ margin. The McGall representatives gathered five first places and four out of seven records. Hill scored a double as he hung up marks of 2:00.8 and 4:31.4 in the half mile and mile. Psiaki set a pace of 10:04.3 to breeze in the 2-mile event.

Freshman Charlie Van Demark soared 5 feet $11\frac{3}{4}$ inches in the high jump to clinch first place and the record, while Charlie Riley, also a frosh, won the pole vault at 11 feet.

S CINDERMEN HAVE GOOD SEASON

At Gettysburg, on May 7, Coach McGall's charges suffered a 68½-57½ defeat at the hands of the newly-crowned E.C.A.C. kings. The Muhlenberg high spot of the meet was Riley's 12 foot ½ inch pole vault, which set a new Berg record.

Acting as host to 16 colleges was our lot on May 10 as the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association came to town. The 12 point total amassed by Berg was good for only eighth place ranking, as Lafayette was an easy victor with 43½ markers.

Carrying the Cardinal and Gray to its only victory was mechanical John Psiaki, who paced off a 9:59.4 2 mile for a new Berg record. Art Hill got seven more points with a second in the 880 and a third in the mile.

In the freshman medley relay the Mule yearlings ended far back and managed to beat only Lehigh's aggregation.

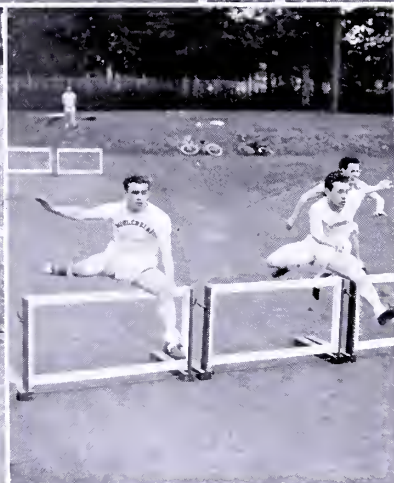

Against La Salle on May 14, Hill and Psiaki unleashed their best efforts of the season. After loafing through a 4:44 mile, the tall blond knocked out a 1:57 half to lower the school record nearly 3 seconds. Not to be outdone, Long John dropped his own 2-mile mark two pegs as he stepped the distance in 9:57.4.

Freshman Bob Haldeman scored a triple in the 100, 220, and discus; Keiter took the 440, Nafis the low hurdles, and Nittolo the javelin throw, while Keiter and Van Demark shared the high jump to round out Berg's first place scoring, for both the meet and the season.

SIX WINS AND FOUR LOSSES

Football at Muhlenberg in 1941 went along with the general trend of Mule teams in recent years in having what may be called a successful season. Winning and losing with equal abandon the Berg gridmen turned in a season's record equal to that of 1939, but in many respects rivaling the best that Mule football squads have ever done.

In winning six and losing four, Coach "Doggie" Julian's team gave Berg followers several pleasant surprise wins mixed among several equally disappointing losses. A Mule powerhouse completely outplayed the favored Carnegie Tech Tartans to win 26-6 just one week before the Pittsburgh eleven furnished strong opposition for Notre Dame, one of the best teams in the East. Muhlenberg romped through the Upsala Vikings, 52-7, to break a jinx the Jersey team has held over Berg teams for several years.

The greatest feat of the Bisset-led squad, however, came on Thanksgiving day at Gettysburg when dynamic "Bud" Bossick and "Big Pete" Schneider took matters into their own hands and passed their underdog team to victory over the favored Bullets, 28-13.

Captain John Bisset, starting fullback, turned in a fine season considering a knee injury that kept him on the bench much of the time. The highlight of the entire campaign, however, was spectacular Tony Anecchiarico, swivel-hipped sophomore, who turned in a nifty 19.4 yard average on punts returned while also nabbing the highest rushing average of the regulars with 5.6 yards.

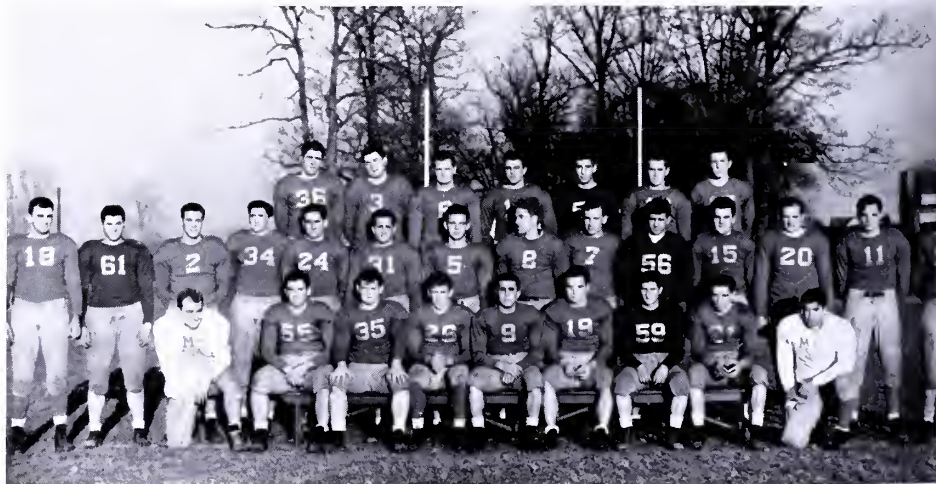

Pete Schneider turned in his best season as a regular end. He caught 19 passes and gained 349 yards on pass receiving while maintaining a 36.2 yard average in the punting department. Diminutive Dave Barbieri, another soph flash, was at home in the kicking end of the game, and kept the highest punting average on the team with 38.5 yards.

Bud Bossick again was the sparkplug of the eleven and in addition to toting the leather for 429 yards and passing for 462 more, making good on 35 out of 68 attempts, he called the plays on the offense.

Following the final game of the season with Gettysburg Bossick was unanimously elected captain of the 1942 team by his teammates in recognition of his value as a gridiron leader.

Muhlenberg men received more recognition this year than ever before in the naming of all-league and all-opponent teams. Stellar guard Joe Petro, one of the greatest defensive guards ever to see action under the Cardinal and Gray, was named to the Associated Press All-Pennsylvania second team and Bossick, Gorgone, Minifri, and Schneider received honorable mention.

Pete Schneider was presented the most-valuable-senior-player plaque by the alumni of the Lehigh Valley Alumni Association and Gus Minifri received a similar award from the Monday Morning Quarterbacks. Petro, Bossick, and Gorgone were named on numerous all-opponent teams as well.

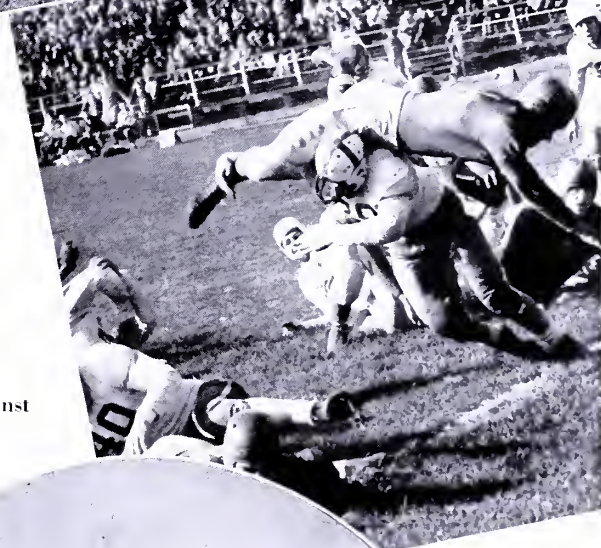

For the sixth straight time Muhlenberg lost its opening game of the season, this time to the Albright Lions, 14-3, before a crowd numbering about 5,000. The Julianmen stepped out in the lead in the middle of the second quarter on Gus Minifri's field goal from the 12-yard line, but the Mule attack bogged down there.

Albright, forced to come from behind, snatched the game out of the fire with a brilliant comeback in the latter part of the first half. The Lions pushed over one touchdown on a series of pass plays, Killiany to Spangler, the first a long heave netting 26 yards and the second a short bullet pass that resulted in the tally. The Reading team scored its second of the day in the last minute of play when Harpster fell on a fumble by Barbieri behind the goal line, to give the Lions a hard-fought 14-3 victory.

The Cardinal and Gray gridmen met defeat, by a 12-0 score, a second time in the still young season when they encountered the strong Bison squad. After an even first half Bucknell got rolling in the third period and after being staved off once when on the verge of scoring, the Thundering Herd turned to powerhouse tactics and on fourteen crushing line plays Knupp and Reichert carried the ball to touchdown territory, the former going through left tackle for the score.

Knupp scored again as the Mules lost the ball after but four plays and the Bisons staged another long drive for their second of the contest. Both times the try for the extra point was blocked by the Muhlenberg line. The game ended shortly afterward with the Mules in possession of the ball.

Muhlenberg football enthusiasts saw one of the biggest upsets in the East the following Saturday when the Mules made a complete about-face from their previous season record and crushed Carnegie Tech, former gridiron greats, 26-6.

Coach Doggie Julian's machine demonstrated lots of power and precision in outplaying the conquerors of Albright the week before at Reading.

Berg scored fast and often and had possession of the ball in Tartan territory most of the time. In the first period the Mules drove to the Tech 4-yard line only to lose the pigskin on a fumble by Bossick with Anderson recovering. Early in the second canto Captain Bisset cracked the line from the one for the first Berg tally. Bossick's score on an off-tackle play came shortly afterward when the scoring play was set up by a sleeper play with Schneider running 37 yards along the sidelines after taking a pass from Bossick.

Bisset scored again on a reverse-lateral from Bossick in the beginning of the second half. In the fourth Fritz passed 15 yards over the goal to Anderson for the visitors' sole score. Minifri accounted for the Mules' last score single handedly, when he intercepted a pass intended for Anderson and dashed 55 yards for a spectacular touchdown. Bossick converted to bring the final score to 26-6.

ALL-PENNSYLVANIA TEAM NAMES PETRO

Travelling to Easton on a rainy Saturday Muhlenberg absorbed its worst defeat of the season at the hands of a point starved Maroon and White team. The Leopards displayed a powerful aggregation which pushed over six touchdowns for a 40-0 victory despite the handicap of a treacherously muddy field.

Bad breaks, penalties, and the unerring toe and exceptional running of Walt Zirinsky all added up to defeat for Berg. The Mules showed up to advantage on only two occasions; the first when Bossick's passes moved the ball 29 yards on three plays, and the second when Barbieri threw seven straight bullet passes to move the ball from the Berg 24 to Lafayette's 34-yard stripe.

Sparked by Bud Bossick and at the height of their game again Muhlenberg walked all over the Red Devils of Dickinson, 13-0, before a large Parent's Day gathering.

The low score was no indication of the relative merits of the teams for Berg was never in serious danger. Bossick accounted for both Berg scores, one in the first and the other in the final period.

Doug Rehor, passing ace, starred for the Carlisle team completing 10 out of 18 aerials and doing some expert quick-kicking. It was the latter that gave Tony Annecciarico his chance to star, for the Mule safety man scooped up several punts and reeled off brilliant 40-yard returns through a broken field. Of twenty-six first downs registered, Berg had twenty, and on no less than four occasions went beyond the Dickinson 25-yard line only to be stopped.

The Cardinal and Gray gridmen routed the Ursinus Bears on rain-soaked Patterson field in Collegeville on Saturday, November 1, 26-6.

The score was tied once in the first period when Ursinus scored after Berg had marched 67 yards for its first touchdown. The outcome was never in doubt, however, and the Cardinal and Gray scored each period thereafter. Johnny Metzger caught a 30-yard pass, thrown by Bossick, to score. Sweatlock accounted for the second Berg touchdown when he intercepted a Bear pass on the thirty-yard stripe and raced untouched over the goal.

In the third period Annecciarico registered on a 45-yard runback of a punt. In the closing stanza he again cut loose to set up the final score with a 29-yard run to the Bear's 1-yard marker. Barbieri carried for the score. Morris kicked two of the four extra point tries to bring the final score to 26-6.

Muhlenberg overcame a game Lehigh squad in the renewal of hostilities between the two Lehigh Valley rivals, 7-2. Berg scored only once and held the Engineers to a lone safety in one of the hardest fought games the teams have played in years.

Dad's Day spectators saw Bossick go through right guard early in the game and Clarke blocked Schneider's punt for the entire scoring of the tilt, as both teams staved off repeated threats, several of them bordering on the spectacular.

An underrated Franklin and Marshall team invaded Allentown the next Saturday and returned home the surprise winners over an outclassed Muhlenberg eleven, 15-7.

A flawless demonstration of just straight football gave 5000 amazed on-lookers an idea of how a well-oiled pigskin machine should function as the Lancaster team rolled up 21 first downs and covered over 300 yards from scrimmage. The Mules themselves were in on the ground gaining too as they gained 250 yards from scrimmage and made 10 first downs.

Monroe and Quick sparked Coach Al Holman's team to victory as the former scored the first Diplomat touchdown after Daher had kicked for three points. Johnny Quick made 17 yards on three plays and then passed to Walt Graf for the final Diplomat score. Tony Annecchiarico again was the Berg star, carrying the ball 13 yards for the sole Mule tally; Morris again kicked the extra point.

Performing to perfection the Mules broke the Upsala jinx by running all over the Vikings to win 52-7.

Annecchiarico and Bossick were the big guns in the Berg attack as most of the squad saw action. Captain Bisset and Annecchiarico scored two touchdowns apiece and Schneider, Metzger, Houser, and Haldeman all tallied once. Three of the scores were on long passes, and the locals picked up 18 first downs.

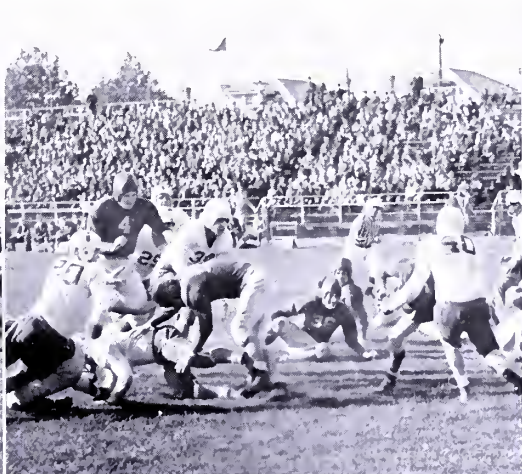

Continuing their late upsurge Muhlenberg's grid warriors proved invincible on Thanksgiving Day, when they journeyed to the battlefield school and annexed another upset win, defeating the Bullets 28-13.

Bud Bossick and Pete Schneider teamed up to pass the Mules to victory before a capacity crowd, while the entire team fought determinedly in pulling itself to a three-way tie with the losers and Franklin and Marshall for the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference championship.

FRESHMAN ELEVEN HAS GOOD YEAR

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL
TEAM

LOUIS DeROSA

A freshman football squad that was small in size as well as in numbers played an abbreviated two-game schedule and emerged undefeated, winning one and tying one. Under the tutelage of Lou DeRosa, former Berg star, the frosh tied Lehigh, 0-0, and beat Gettysburg, 15-6.

In the opening game of the season with the Lehigh yearlings, the frosh eleven was backed up against the goal line for most of the afternoon, while the stronger Lehigh team used every play it knew in an effort to hit pay-dirt.

Although the Mules showed little striking power, they did show that they were tough boys near the goal line by staving off at least four spirited Lehigh thrusts in holding the Engineers to a scoreless deadlock. Captain George Reimer, left guard, formed the backbone of a stiff defense that stalled Lehigh's ground attack. Reeser and Barresi sparked the aerial defense.

One week later the baby Mules entertained Gettysburg in traditional Muhlenberg fashion by kicking the Bullet line full of holes to run up a 15-6 win. The frosh scored within three minutes of the first quarter. Jim Klemmer quick-kicked out of bounds on the Bullets' ten yard line, and a poor punt return gave the Cardinal and Gray team the ball on the Gettysburg 30-yard line. On third down Reeser passed to Fenstermacher for six points. Klemmer converted to make it 7-0.

A blocked kick run into the end zone gave Gettysburg its tally just before the half ended. In the third period another pass, Klemmer to Bibighaus, gave Berg its second touchdown. The scoring ended with a safety for Muhlenberg when Williams tackled Cervino in the end zone.

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM SPLITS EVEN

It was an all-veteran team guided by student coach Ernie Fellows, that hit the country-side as Muhlenberg's cross-country squad. The returning triumvirate of Psiaki, Hill, and Remaley was expected to carry the harriers through a fine season. However, the loss of front-running "Long John" Psiaki following the Lafayette meet hit the Mules hard. The season's record shows that the Cardinal and Gray runners had two victories and two defeats.

The Mules administered a crushing defeat to Lafayette in the first meet, 15-40. The runners finished the grind by taking a lap around the Lafayette stadium track between halves of the Leopard-Mule football game, and the large crowd was astonished to see seven Muhlenberg men cross the finish line before the first Lafayette runner straggled in. Psiaki, Hill, Remaley, Wampole, Himmelberger, Berghorn, and Leopold finished in that order.

In the next meet against Lehigh the Mules ran without the services of Psiaki, who had suffered shin splints. They dropped a 25-30 decision to the Engineers in a close meet which they probably would have won with Psiaki running. Art Hill and Jim Remaley captured first and second, and Berghorn, Himmelberger, and Leopold took eighth, ninth, and tenth, but it wasn't enough to win.

Once again Muhlenberg raced Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster. After training all week over the usual five mile route, the Mule harriers went to Lancaster to find a short three mile course laid out for them. Once again the Diplomats beat Muhlenberg, capturing the first two places with Peiffer and Gelber and going on to win, 22-33. Hill finished third, and sixth to ninth were Remaley, Fleischman, Wampole, and Seeger.

The three steadiest runners all year, Hill, Remaley, and sophomore surprise Glen Wampole, brought Muhlenberg a sparkling victory in the toughest meet of the season, the four-way meet with Lehigh, Lafayette, and Swarthmore. Blond Art Hill ran a beautiful race to finish twenty yards ahead of the pack. Wampole was a close third, and Remaley took fifth. Other Mules to score were Himmelberger and Berghorn in eleventh and thirteenth places.

BASKETBALL SQUAD WINS SIXTEEN

COACH JULIAN

One of the Muhlenberg College winter time dreams for many years has been the winning of the conference basketball championship. Sad to say, this past basketball season left the Cardinal and Gray basketball team and its followers with a concentrated case of frustration once again. Ever since 1938 it was felt that the 1942 quintet was to be the one destined to capture that which the sports writers have dubbed gonfalon, but nothing material was advanced on the above noble theory. It must be said, however, that the boys on the squad this year did the best job witnessed for more than four years. The final records show a list of sixteen victories as against seven defeats. This is impressive in itself, of course, but to mention the fact that this includes a torrid thirteen-game winning streak indicates more correctly the worth of the Mule five.

Five non-league games opened the schedule in December, and the Mules won two of these. In January, just after the Christmas holidays, they then played their first league game at home against Bucknell, won it, and were simultaneously launched on their thirteen-game streak. The latter included eight league games, and this achievement placed the Mules comfortably in first place. But, at Bucknell, the team which had been the start of the good fortunes of the Mules turned on the locals with a 68-39 upset. Although the Mules then came home to beat Albright, they lost to Franklin and Marshall and to Albright away, F. & M. retaining the league championship. The second-place Mules then lost to LaSalle in the season's formal close, but, in an exhibition game for national defense purposes, Moravian was defeated for the second time.

There wasn't much of interest attached to the opening game with the invading Vikings of Upsala, except the fact that Charlie Trinkle scored 20 points for the Mules. This was the season's highest individual score for a Mule player. A total of twenty-one players took part in this 65-37 victory, as Coach Julian staged a grand show by inserting whole teams as substitutions. The Mules then traveled to Manhattan College and lost, 35-28, with Jack Minogue scoring 10 for the local favorites.

Temple's Owls came to Allentown and beat the Mules, 57-46, despite the valiant efforts of Captain Pete Schneider and Ben Celian, who scored 15 and 14 points, respectively. The Mules were unable to hold a halftime lead of 25-24, but they were leading the Scarlet and Black of Rutgers by the same margin at the half and then went on to win, 45-37, at home. In this game Trinkle and Celian shared honors with 11 points apiece. St. Joseph's College then played victorious host to the Mules, 64-52, to end the pre-Christmas schedule. Trinkle with 16, Kenny Stone with 14, and Schneider with 10 points led the Mules.

Since it was time for the thirteen-game winning streak, Schneider scored 16 points, Stone and Jack Meyerdierks 14 each, and Trinkle 13 against Bucknell, and the Mules inevitably had to win the game, 64-62. Meyerdierks scored 11 more against Ursinus away, and the Mules won again, 48-42. Lebanon Valley came to the Little Palestra on their night off, as the Mules registered their highest score of the season, 75-31. Stone and Schneider scored 16 points apiece, Trinkle 13, and Jim Crampsey 10.

With three successive league wins to their credit Muhlenberg then took time out to entertain the Wildcats of Villanova. The Wildcats went ahead in the first half, 28-20, and with a red-headed rage by the name of Klotz, looked too potent for the locals. Our own Coach Julian had other ideas, however, and he put Jack Minogue on Mr. Klotz in the second half, much to Mr. Klotz's ultimate regret. The Mules won in overtime, 49-46, after Minogue had blocked a last-second shot by Klotz in the second half. Schneider led his team with 12 points.

Back to more important things, the Mules then defeated Gettysburg, 45-40, in a home game. Crampsey led the locals with 11 points, his four starting mates coming within two or three points' reach. At Lebanon Valley the Flying Dutchmen were as gracious hosts as they had been guests, and succumbed, 57-34. Trinkle scored 15 and Crampsey gathered 11 points once again. These two games ran the total of league victories to five, and the winning streak had only just begun to mount.

In what had been scheduled as a breather the locals met Lehigh's Engineers on the floor of the latter, and were extended to win out finally, 47-46. Three-ply thievery accounted for the victory in the last minute and forty-five seconds of play. Berg losing, 46-41. First, Crampsey stole the ball, flipped a pass to Schneider who merely pushed it into the basket for a goal; second, Celian stole the ball, passed to Trinkle who also scored a goal; third, Trinkle stole the ball, pivoted, and scored the winning basket. To rub this sort of thing in, Crampsey ended Lehigh's last threat, and the game, by stealing the ball from a man on his way to our basket with only Crampsey in the way. Crampsey dropped his mask and black-jack in time to score 13 points.

Famed F. & M. came to Allentown in an attempt to end the Mule's streak, but they left with a disillusioning 54-42 loss as a souvenir. In this key game Crampsey scored 14, Schneider and Meyerdieks 12 each, and Stone 11 points. The league, for the Mules, was half over. They then re-defeated Lehigh, 55-37, at home. Crampsey scored 12, Meyerdieks 11, and Trinkle and Schneider 10 apiece. Ursinus suffered a like fate by a 43-32 count on the Palestra floor. Meyerdieks scored 14 and Stone 12 points for the locals. Against Lafayette, away, Crampsey scored 13 and Stone 11 points, which dual effort aided the Mules to win, 55-30.

The away game at Gettysburg was supposed to be the game which was to denote the destinies of the Mules in the league race. Getting way to a 24-14 lead in the first half, the Mules merely matched goal for goal with Gettysburg in the second half, and won, 39-29. Stone scored 12 points, even though he was heavily guarded all night long. Boasting a win over Albright, the Greyhounds of Moravian came to Allentown to be frustrated in an attempt for the mythical Lehigh Valley championship, 68-52. Crampsey scored 17, Stone 16, Meyerdieks 12, and Trinkle and Schneider 10 points each. This was the thirteenth and last in the string of consecutive wins. Actually, with the end of the streak went also the hopes for a league title, although there were none who suspected the coming debacle. The Mules had won eight straight league games including every team in the league but Albright.

VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD

ND RUNNER-UP POSITION IN CONFERENCE

But boorish Bucknell trounced the locals at Lewisburg, 68-39, as is usual every year. Stone scored 13 points. It was said immediately that the Mules were tired out, but, at the end of the first half against Albright, nobody was believing it; the Mules were leading, 21-6. The final score was also in favor of the Mules, 44-39, but it was obvious then that something was wrong with the locals. It was supposed that, perhaps, they really were tired. Schneider scored 17 points to spark his worn-out mates. He did the same thing with 11 against the Diplomats at F. & M., but the Mules lost out, 49-43. The Dips then beat Gettysburg, which gave the former a record of 10 wins and 2 losses. In other words, the Mules had to win their last game against Albright to assure themselves of a tie. No matter, Albright took their measure, 58-46, and the Mules, who had done so well all season long, found that there was no substitute for fatigue. Trinkle scored 17 points in an effort to wake up his drowsy comrades.

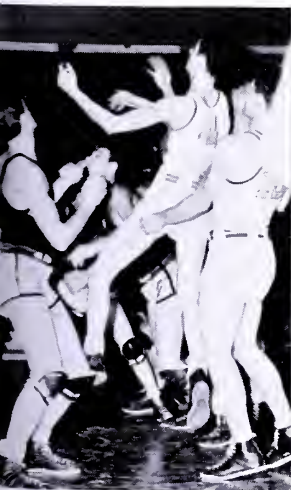

Nobody blamed the Mules for not winning the title; rather were they everywhere complimented for their achievements. And it really didn't matter that LaSalle beat them in Philly, 39-37, with Crampsey scoring 16 points. They had compiled a record far better than the seniors on the campus had ever witnessed, and, at one time during the season, had been rated third best college team in the state of Pennsylvania. In an off-the-record game they once again defeated Moravian, 57-46, with Stone racking up 16 off-the-record points.

The individual point totals for the regular starting five follow: Jim Crampsey, 213; Captain Pete Schneider, 206; Charlie Trinkle, 205; Kenny Stone, 200; and Jack Meyerderks, 135. Jim Crampsey also led in foul shots completed with 63.

VARSITY WRESTLING SQUAD

Returning veterans and a new coach, Carl Frankett, brought the 1941-42 wrestling aggregation its best record since wrestling became a varsity sport at Muhlenberg four years ago. The matmen finished the season with a record of four wins and a like number of losses.

Besides its exceptional record in dual meets, the 1941-42 squad placed third in the Middle Atlantic championships by gaining one first place, two seconds, and a third position.

The men who placed in the Middle Atlantics and led the team throughout the season were: sophomore sensation, Danny Prescott, who won the 145-pound championship; consistent juniors, 155-pound Bertram Gilbert and 128-pound Warren Nafis, who gained second places in the championships; and senior Spiro Chiaparas, who finished his best season as a 175-pounder by obtaining a third place in the Middle Atlantic tournament.

Other wrestlers were: Monroe Greene, 121-pounder; Captain Barney Brown and Raymond Fetter, 136-pounders; Creighton Faust and George Nittolo, 165-pounders; Charles Woodworth, 175-pounder; and Wayne Keek, Leroy Ziegenfuss, and Joseph Shanosky, all heavyweights.

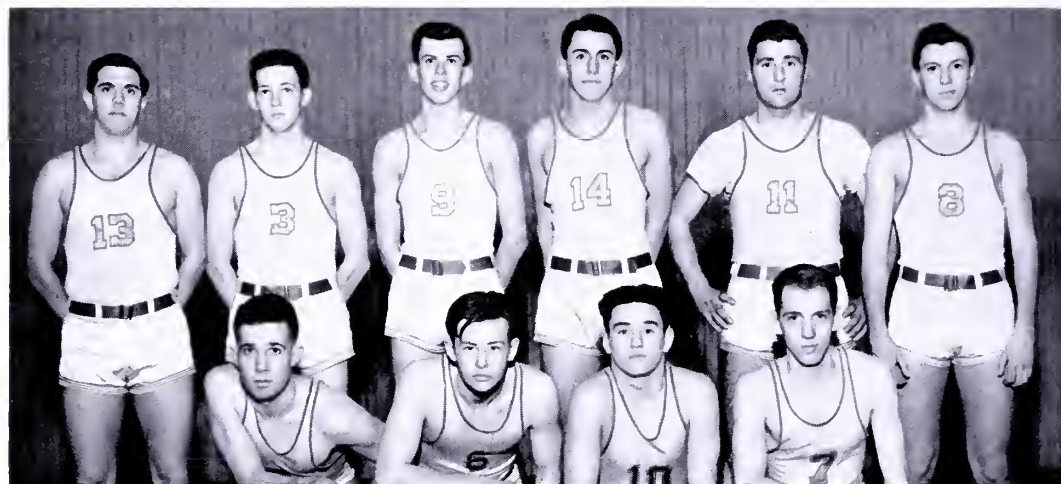

The matmen opened the season by crushing a green Temple University squad, 26-8. Following this victory the grapplers tangled with Haverford and after building up a 16-5 lead, lost out 20-16 as Haverford came through in the heavy classes.

Against the strongest Rutgers team in a decade only one Muhlenberg man gained a win. Warren Nafis was the lone Berg victor as the squad fell, 33-5. In its fourth meet the Cardinal and Grey mat squad swamped Brooklyn Polytechnical Institute 24-8.

After losing to Gettysburg, 21-13, the grunt and groan squad entertained Ursinus in the Little Palestra and trouuced the Bears 29-3.

Lafayette proved too much for the locals and defeated them 26-10. However, in their final dual meet of the year, the grapplers upset a favored University of Maryland squad 18-16. Warren Nafis and Bertram Gilbert were unanimously named co-captains of the 1942-43 squad.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL TEAM DOES WELL

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL TEAM

Having only mediocre talent at hand the Muhlenberg yearlings managed nevertheless to gain a .500 average in the ten games of their 1941-42 basketball season.

Another cause for the poor showing of the freshmen might be the change of coaches in the middle of the campaign. The team started under Phil Hillen's tutelage, continued under Doggie Julian, who had his hands full trying to pilot his team to a conference championship, and finished under Dick Busby, ex-Berg star. However, the frosh team managed to outscore its opponents 355 to 342 points.

Leading scorer for the year was George Bibighaus with 93 points. The man closest to him was Kessock with 75. Heberling came next with 56 points, Wetherhold with 44 points and Reaser with 40 points, rounded out the usual starting line-up. Smith started the season as captain, but was forced from the team when he was declared ineligible. Volpe, McGee, Trostle, Gebert, Miller, and Kirk made up the rest of the squad.

Muhlenberg's Little Mules opened the season away from home by defeating the Ursinus Cubs 42-37 with Kessock and Bibighaus sharing the scoring honors with ten points apiece.

After defeating Lebanon Valley to the tune of 44-35, the Mules dropped their first game of the year to the Elks.

The yearlings then lost the next two to the City Champion Mack Bulldogs 21-31, and to Lehigh 28-38, but got back into winning form by defeating Lehigh in the Palestra 45-37. Reaser and Kessock were high in this game with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Keeping in the win column, the frosh next defeated Ursinus 31-26. Bibighaus split the cords with ten points. Allentown Business College was the next victim and it fell by the score of 45-40.

Albright proved to be the final nemesis of the frosh when the Albrightian squad cut down the Little Mules twice in a row with 26-34 and 31-37 scores.

FRESHMAN WRESTLERS GAIN EXPERIENCE

In its second year at Muhlenberg the freshman grunt and groan squad started in an out of the ordinary way by defeating its first opponent. This might be said to be the keynote of the year for the frosh team, because it decidedly upset pre-view dope by winning another match to make the season two for two.

Several likely aspirants for next year's varsity were developed under the skillful eye of Coach Frankett and these men will provide excellent inter-squad competition for the present varsity. Most promising performer of the year was Harold Spangler who by sheer strength and some wrestling knowledge managed to win three of four matches by quick pins. His only loss was to a more experienced wrestler with the same amount of strength.

Next best on the squad, according to the statistics, was Captain Bill Evans. Evans took two out of four matches by pins and was decisioned in the other two. Although he had had some previous experience, Evans had the misfortune to be stacked up against some exceptionally powerful opponents.

Reimer and Smith are the two other members of the frosh wrestling team who are positive threats to the varsity. Reimer wrestled with no previous experience and managed to get a pin and a decision, while he lost two decisions. Smith with some high school experience won only one, he was decisioned in two and was pinned once.

Rupert and DiAngelo will make their respective persons felt on the varsity next year by virtue of their showing this year. Ruppert won only one match and lost three, all by pins. DiAngelo wrestled in only three matches but won two of them by a pin and a decision. He was thrown in the other match.

Costabile and Beisel merely lack experience to make them competent grapplers.

As for the meets, the Frosh grapplers took the first one from Rutgers quickly and surely by a 28-10 score. After losing to a strong and experienced Newton High School team 29-5 the frosh won another from Ursinus, swamping it 29-6. To complete the season the yearlings took on Franklin and Marshall Academy and were whitewashed 30-0.

FRESHMAN TENNIS NEW SPRING SPORT

Muhlenberg's athletic department introduced a new sport in the spring of 1941 in the form of a freshman tennis team. Following the example of their varsity brothers the freshmen had a highly successful season as they compiled a record of four wins and no losses.

Moravian's yearling squad was the first one engaged by the newly organized freshmen and it was easily conquered as the freshmen racketeers swept through to a 9-0 victory.

Freshmen teams representing Lafayette and Lehigh were then faced by Coach Shankweiler's candidates for the 1942 varsity team and both fell by the score of 7-2.

In a return match with Moravian, the frosh tennisers again whitewashed the Greyhound freshmen, 9-0.

The freshmen lined up to face their four foes with Weller, first; Ranken, second; Bossard, third; Diefenderfer, fourth; Meyerdieks, fifth; and Taylor, sixth.

INTRAMURALS CONTINUE TO GROW

Perry Scott's Feather Merchants captured first place in Muhlenberg's 1941 intramural sports, which included contests in basketball, volleyball, playground ball, tennis, and track.

The Merchants scored 289 points to place themselves considerably ahead of their nearest rival, Phi Kappa Tau, which placed second with 239 points. West Hall with 225 points gained the third place position.

Over a third of the eligible students participated in at least one of the sports offered to make up the largest number of students that ever engaged in intramurals.

This is Bicentennial year at Muhlenberg and we of the 1943 CIARLA staff felt that the commemoration of the coming to America of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg was the only possible theme. We saw the immense plans the college was contemplating for the celebrating of Bicentennial Week on the local campus. We saw the imposing array of names on the Bicentennial Commission headed by Franklin Delano Roosevelt, President of the United States. We decided that there could be no better preview of this great event in the history of Muhlenberg College than a Bicentennial CIARLA. To make this book worthy of the event it was commemorating was our goal, and the entire staff has cooperated splendidly.

To "Haps" Benfer, our faculty advisor, and to Dr. John D. M. Brown, our literary advisor, we say thanks for advice given so wisely and generously.

To the Kutztown Publishing Company, Sarony Studios, Pontiac Engraving Company, and Kingscraft Cover Company, we say thanks for your fine artistic workmanship and friendly advice.

But we especially appreciate the privilege of working with Dr. Shankweiler, whose superior photography has done much toward improving the quality of this book. Yar Chomickey, for his fine sketches, also receives our deepest thanks.

ABREAST OF MODERN JOURNALISM

JAMIESON

CRESSMAN

In the twenty-seventh year as a weekly publication, the WEEKLY continued "abreast of the march of modern journalism" as begun in 1939, by retaining its high place in the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association's ranks by returning from competitions in December, 1941 with a first place gold cup for editorials, a second in sports, and a third in news and make-up. The WEEKLY was also given a First Class Honor Rating by the Associated Collegiate Press for its first semester files.

The WEEKLY throughout the year continued as the "voice of the campus" following campus trends on the one side and attempting to formulate opinion on the other side, all the while reserving the right to determine its own editorial policy. The WEEKLY is a newspaper in every sense of the word, printing all Muhlenberg news as up to the minute as is possible with its publication schedule.

Two major editorial crusades were undertaken: first, an attempt was made to further closer relations with Cedar Crest college through the Good Neighbor Policy; and secondly, after the U. S. declaration of war against the Axis, the WEEKLY stressed the importance of remaining in college and remaining calm in the face of a world disaster. The WEEKLY was also actively engaged in securing reservations for and running a bus excursion to the Fred Waring broadcast of Muhlenberg's new song in New York on March 6—these the highlights of an exceedingly active year on the campus news front.

Page two of the WEEKLY continued to offer a diversified bit of reading, presenting such columns as: "Random Ramblings Recorded" by John Schwenk, "Columnist Candid Confessions" by Harold Helfrich, "The Campus Angle" by Charles Burrell, "Vox" by Paul Candalino, "Exchangitis" by Edmund Pfeifer, "From the Rishat of the Rajah" by W. Roger Jamieson, and continuing after three years, "Swing and Jive" by Wilmer H. Cressman. For the greater part of the year, Claude Dierolf's "On the Ball" was a sports page feature.

Each week of issue at 4:45 p. m. the WEEKLY radio commentators "aired" Muhlenberg news through the facilities of the local radio station WCBA-WSAN.

Since its original organization in 1925, the Muhlenberg College Band has improved steadily. Now in the second year of his directorship, Mr. Anthony Jagnesak has trained a band that performs equally well on the marching field and on the concert stage.

The football season saw the formation of two innovations in the band. A drum-majorette, Miss Helen Jones of Cedar Crest College, and an assistant drum-major, Reuben Kulp of the freshman class added resplendence to the gridiron exhibitions with their deft baton manipulations. The band itself executed varied and intricate drills; for one game a spectacular performance was given with four bands participating.

During the basketball season the band added snap and enthusiasm to the games, and plunged into the work for its concert appearances. This year's repertoire was again diversified, including light compositions, modern rhapsodies and the classics. Among the selections rendered in the concerts of this year were: Von Suppe's familiar and ever popular overture Morning, Noon, and Night; an adaptation for clarinet quartet of the Rondo from the Piano Sonata Number One of Mozart; the traditional Russian Gypsy melody Two Guitars, and the stirring Raymond Overture by Thomas.

The band's concerts have not been confined to the student body on the campus. Touring to the neighborhood towns, Emmaus and Catasauqua, the band gave concerts for the high school students in their assembly programs.

At the second concert the presentation of awards to the members of the band is made in recognition of their service to the organization. For one year of service freshmen receive a felt emblem of a music lyre; sophomores and juniors receive chenille "M's", and the seniors receive gold watch charms for four years of service.

Most momentous of the band's performances for the year will be its participation in the Muhlenberg Bicentennial Celebration in June, where it will be responsible for no small part of the instrumental music.

Prominent participation in the spectacular Muhlenberg Bicentennial pageant, concerts staged under a newly adopted plan of city-wide sponsorship, service without the stimulus of special privilege—these are the mementoes of the Chapel Choir's tenth anniversary year.

Organized in May, 1931, by Dr. Harold K. Marks from a nucleus singing group founded by his father, the old Glee Club, the Choir made its first appearance at baccalaureate services in June of the same year. Since that time the organization's personnel has grown from thirty to approximately forty, and its activities have been expanded from the originally planned leadership in campus chapel services to a more significant musical leadership in the Church at large by the rendition of concerts in churches far removed from the campus.

MUHLENBERG COLLEGE CHOIR

Choir in action

ENTH ANNIVERSARY YEAR

Some members watch the director

Seeking a heavier patronage for each concert, the management sought this year to unite, wherever possible, the individual congregations of cities or regions into single sponsoring agents. As a result, the Choir sang its first publicly patronized concert in Allentown since its organization and followed this with jointly promoted concerts in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Mauch Chunk and East Mauch Chunk, Lebanon, and Royersford. Other concerts, congregationally sponsored, were presented in Reading, Fleetwood, Boyertown, Bath, Catasauqua, and Oley.

Under negotiation at the time the Ciarla editor laid down his deadline were several concerts for men in the armed services of the United States at various cantonments in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The greatest distinction and the weightiest responsibility which fell to the Choir was its role in the Bicentennial pageant. Augmented by forty men drawn from local singing organizations, the Choir provided the musical setting for many of the scenes, and it was the Chapel Choir, unaugmented, which performed this work when the pageant was presented in the Philadelphia Academy of Music prior to its presentation on the Muhlenberg campus. Many extra hours were spent in rehearsing the numerous chorales in addition to those spent in learning and memorizing the regular concert repertoire.

In the face of these added responsibilities, a privilege, which had previously served as an incentive to loyalty, was finally denied. Reference is made to the exemption from Physical Education to which all members were entitled and which was made impossible by the second semester's compulsory Red Cross First Aid course. The fact that there were no ensuing member "casualties" proves conclusively the falsity of occasional subversive comments that Choir members served merely for the exemption.

There were other "firsts," too. For the first year the Choir sang from memory; it was the first year that the Choir took into its personnel a student to serve solely as accompanist; it was the first year that members received keys immediately upon completion of two years of service; and, finally, the Allentown concert was the first concert for which Dr. Marks put aside his flowing gown and donned his "tails."

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council operates on the campus as the official organ of student government through the authority vested in it by the Student Body Constitution adopted in 1939. It is composed of nine seniors who are elected at the end of their junior year by the student body at large.

The Council assumes direct responsibility for the major student functions, such as: the codifying and enforcing of Freshman regulations, the conducting of pep meetings, and the arrangement of Student Body dances and banquets.

In addition to its rather circumscribed activities the Council handles the General and Social Funds of the Student Body. It makes appropriations to the various student organizations and it receives financial reports which are placed, along with significant correspondence of the respective organizations, in the Student Council files. Thus, it integrates and coordinates all the student activities on the campus.

The men who compose the Student Council have a unique responsibility to their fellow students. They not only transact the business of the Student Body and oversee the many student activities, but they are also expected to assume intelligent leadership in their various other capacities and to be examples of good conduct. The Council offers opportunity for practical training in administrative work; it also awards distinction to those who work unselfishly for their fellow students and their college.

The purpose of the Inter-fraternity Council is to co-ordinate the activities of the five Greek letter social groups and to develop and further a greater spirit of cooperation among them. To the Council is delegated the power to regulate rushing, pledging, and other interests common to all the social groups.

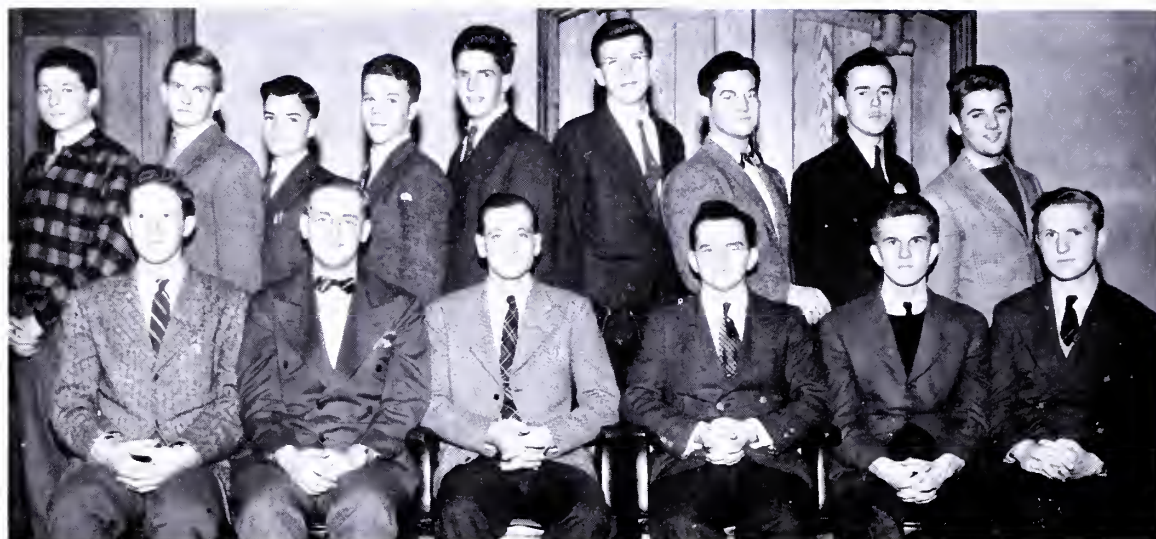

The council further encourages scholarship within the groups it represents by the award of a scholastic cup each semester to that fraternity having the highest rating during the semester among all the men affiliated with the group.

For the first time a joint meeting of all members of the five fraternities on the campus was held in the Science building auditorium under the supervision of the Council. The meeting was called to consider plans to present a gift to the college from the Inter-fraternity Council. The plan of having all the fraternities come together was deemed so successful that it was decided to continue having such meetings every year.

The Inter-fraternity Ball, held at the Lehigh Country Club, was the highlight of the fraternity social season. House parties by the several chapter houses were held in conjunction with the affair.

Because Dr. John C. Keller, the faculty advisor, had rendered such valuable service to the group during the years the Council has been active, an Inter-fraternity Council key was awarded to him in recognition of the advice and counsel he has given.

As an outgrowth of the Y. M. C. A., the M. C. A. maintains loose connections with that body as well as with other Student Christian movements. For this purpose delegates are sent to all important meetings and conventions.

One of its more vital functions is the publication of the Muhlenberg handbook, the "M" book, published for the information of the student body. Connected with this task is the annual welcoming of the new freshman class during Freshman Week. During this time the new men are introduced to the Muhlenberg faculty, to its traditions, and to its facilities.

Through the assistance of the M. C. A. students are enabled to visit various industrial plants and points of interest in and near Allentown. The Allentown Chamber of Commerce co-operates with the Association in this work. Each year discussion groups are organized to give students assistance in daily campus problems. Missions, Bible study, and problems of society are also discussed. The M. C. A. establishes an information bureau where men may receive help and advice.

The Cabinet of the Muhlenberg Christian Association furnishes ushers for Sunday Vesper Services and encourages regular church and Sunday school attendance.

Standing definitely for a life governed by Christian principles, the Association makes every effort to exert a wholesome guiding influence upon students and to inculcate in them ideals of true Christian manhood.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Founded upon an understanding, love, and appreciation for the language and culture of the German peoples, Der Deutsche Verein has become one of Muhlenberg's most popular and active organizations. Its meetings are held in that friendly spirit of fellowship and cooperation which enhances the appreciation and understanding of the finest elements of German culture.

Traditional meetings of the club include its Fall Ansflug, Weihnachtsfest, Damenabend, and Spring Ansflug—the last named is a direct outgrowth of the Junior Class Ansflug which was conducted annually a half century ago by Professor William Wackernagel.

This year Dr. and Mrs. Reichard entertained at the Weihnachtsfest, and Dr. Reichard's customary St. Nicholas provided the inimitable entertainment for which he is so well remembered.

Der Deutsche Verein was the first club on the Muhlenberg campus, and since its initial meeting, April 10, 1924, all of its meetings have been conducted in German. Under the careful guidance of Doctors Barba and Reichard the club has made one of the finest contributions on the campus to the furtherance of the Muhlenberg tradition of fine education.

Der Deutsche Verein has always been a constructive leader of campus activities and it is the sincere desire of its members that it may continue its appreciable contributions to the greater Muhlenberg which is to come.

PRE-MEDICAL SOCIETY

Under the skillful guidance of Dr. J. V. Shankweiler, the Pre-medical Society at Muhlenberg college has grown to be one of the most beneficial organizations on the campus—of great service to its members and the college as a whole.

Benefit to its members arises from the splendid program featuring each year some of the outstanding members of the medical profession, and professors of medicine and surgery.

Benefit to the College as a whole arises from the same source. During the past year, the society has brought to the campus leading alumni in the persons of Dr. Clifford Trexler, Dr. Thomas Weaver, Jr., Dr. John Wotring, and Dr. Walter Banks. From America's foremost medical institutions have come: Dr. A. M. Ornsteen of the Medical school of the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Joseph Chandler of Hahnemann Medical college; Dr. S. L. T. Appleton, Dean of the Dental school, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Alan Moritz, Head of Legal Medicine, Harvard University; Dr. Reynold Griffith of Jefferson Medical school; Dr. Otterbein Dressler of the Philadelphia college of Osteopathy.

Annual trips to leading medical institutions are also of incalculable benefit to the members. At the special request of the man who brought sulfanilamide to America, Dr. Perrin Long, once a guest of the Society, Johns Hopkins University this year entertained the Pre-medical Society. It was the first time in the fifty-year history of Johns Hopkins that a pre-medical group had been received. Dean of the Medical School, Dr. Chesney, piloted the group in the morning session, and Assistant Dean Barker in the afternoon.

Since a large group of under-graduates had signified their interest in carrying on work in the legal profession, the John Marshall Pre-legal Society was founded in 1933. A few years later, due to increased interest in the field, a special course was laid out by the college administration to care for basic Pre-legal training at Muhlenberg. Only Sophomores and upper class students who achieve good standing in this and allied courses are permitted membership in the Pre-Legal Society.

The purpose of the Society is to foster and direct the pre-legal activities of students while at Muhlenberg. To further this aim, and to acquaint members more thoroughly with problems which must be met while at law school practicing law, various attorneys were brought in to discuss and clarify these problems.

Other activities of the Pre-legal Society include trips to the County Courthouse where legal procedure is witnessed and the annual banquet at which time several outstanding attorneys are guests of the club.

At commencement the Society gives a prize to that member of the graduating class who has distinguished himself in pre-legal activities during his under-graduate work.

The John A. W. Haas Pre-theological Club is an organization of Muhlenberg ministerial students. The organization deepens the spiritual lives of its members and strives to promote a Christian influence on the campus.

From 1921 to 1933, Dr. W. C. Shaeffer, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Allentown, each year invited the Ministerial students of the College to a banquet held in the Parish House of his Church. Speakers at these good-fellowship gatherings inspired the students with ideals of Christian Manhood.

The Pre-theological Club was formed at Muhlenberg in 1933. The name was changed to the John A. W. Haas Pre-theological Club in honor of our former College President, Dr. John A. W. Haas, and in appreciation of the administration's gift of Dr. Haas' study as a special room for all ministerial students to meet in, and for the purpose of study.

The society is true to its aim to deepen the spiritual lives of its members; for in the past three years, the society has visited and inspected Mt. Airy Seminary in Philadelphia, Homestead Prison, Good Shepherd Home, Topton Orphans' Home, River Crest Tuberculosis Sanitarium, and Old Trappe Church.

The organization has promoted good-fellowship among its members by holding pleasant picnics in Dorney and Trexler Parks.

Speakers at the meetings have given the members inspiration. Educational discussions usually follow, in which the group discusses religious and students' problems with desire to further a Christian feeling among the students.

The organization will close its activities this year with a good-fellowship banquet and speaker.

MASK AND DAGGER

Springing from Muhlenberg's original dramatic club, the Cue and Quill, the Mask and Dagger, after a somewhat sporadic life between 1931 and 1935, has come to be the focal point of all campus dramatic activities. In recent years the club has been choosing plays of all types to interest the greater part of the student body. Along with the upswing in the general type of play chosen has come a definite improvement in the staging abilities of the club.

For its annual Fall Production this year the Mask and Dagger Club in conjunction with the Cedar Crest Chimes Club presented Elizabeth McFadden's Double Door. A play of mysterious portent and forboding evil lightened by quick dashes of comedy, Double Door was ably performed by a well balanced cast and was well received by the student body.

In the assembly hour allotted to the Mask and Dagger there was presented one of the major dramatic achievements of the club. The student directed The Valiant, a one act play by Robert Middelmas and Holworthy Hall, was the first assembly play to require a female character. Well directed and fittingly staged, The Valiant was a most successful production.

Owen Davis' Mr. and Mrs. North was used to close the 1940-41 season of the Mask and Dagger Club. This popular Broadway hit proved to be a most successful vehicle for the histrionic talent of those who took part in the play. Amid an excellent setting the season was closed.

MUHLENBERG BUSINESS ASSOCIATION

Undoubtedly one of the more progressive organizations on the campus is the Muhlenberg Business Association. With its membership limited to those students who are majors or minors in Business Administration, Economics, or Sociology, the M.B.A. concentrates on the diversified activities of the business world.

At each meeting a prominent business man from Allentown addresses the members on the advantages and disadvantages of his special field and answers the many questions. Quite often interesting and practical discussions ensue. In this manner the members of the M.B.A. are able to learn from first hand sources just what lies ahead in their chosen fields.

The trips to the numerous manufacturing plants in the vicinity, which were always popular, have been curtailed this year because many such plants are engaged in defense work and are closed for the duration to visitors. However, new ideas and sources of information are being discovered to fill this gap in the club's activities program.

The annual banquet is held just after the election of the new officers in the spring.

The 1942 edition of the freshman tribunal began its season of frosh baiting rather propitiously with a new set of regulations and a new challenge. It was hoped by all the members that the emphasis of the court's work could be directed toward the instillation of a better appreciation of the ideals and traditions of the school and that the de-emphasis of the court's punitive work could be accomplished.

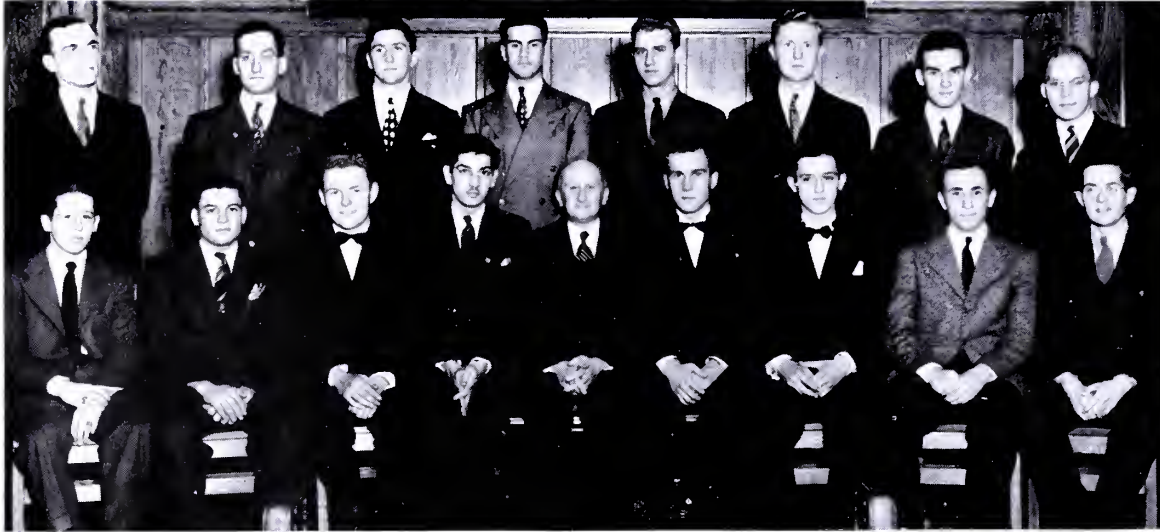

It was toward these goals that the original tribunal began to work. The use of the Alma Mater as a means of hazing was discouraged. Much of the time during the first few meetings was spent in reasoning with offending frosh and in handing out mild punishments on the basis of strict justice.

It was not long before even this mild sort of punishment began to rankle the frosh, and it soon became apparent that they were openly flaunting the regulations. The tribunal began to make the punishments more rigid but continued to lose prestige when several of the penalties were frowned upon by the dean.

It was just at this time that the sophomores defeated the frosh in the third of the tribunal sponsored, soph-frosh contests. The score stood two to three in favor of the sophs who had also won the football game. The tribunal ruled that regulations would continue until Christmas.

Open rebellion broke out. The tribunal was forced to call upon the student council for backing. Student president Metzger reorganized the tribunal adding five new members. This new tribunal was given new powers. Drastic punishments were sanctioned by the council and the administration. Needless to say, things ran rather smoothly until the end of the hazing period. The tribunal court room became, once again, the freshmen's court of Horrors.

The Forensic Council was organized in 1932 under the able leadership of Professor Ephraim B. Everitt, our coach of varsity debate. The purpose of the council is the governing, encouraging, and fostering of oratory and debate at Muhlenberg. Although it meets only semi-annually, it is active during the entire school-year.

Its membership is limited since only students who have participated in a varsity debate or an oratorical contest are eligible. At the annual election, the president, who acts as manager of debate, and the secretary-treasurer, who acts as assistant-manager, are elected for the following year. One of the senior members of the debating squad is elected as honorary captain. Dr. Brown, the oratorical coach, and Mr. Everitt act as advisors.

It can truly be said that the Forensic Council is responsible for Muhlenberg's high reputation in the forensic field, for since its founding, it has encouraged an ever-rising standard for debate, and has fostered the training of champion orators.

This year under the auspices of the council, besides conducting a great number of debates with near-by colleges, the debating team made an extended trip throughout the South where it met outstanding colleges and universities. The increased interest in debating and oratory on our campus are mute witnesses to the fine work of the group.

WHO'S WHO IN CLASS OF 1942

Each year a few members of the senior class are recommended by the College as candidates for the annual "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

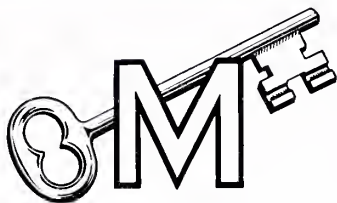

Thirteen seniors received this recommendation this past year to make up the largest number of Muhlenberg seniors to be thus honored by the college and the annual.

The men are recommended by the administration because of the outstanding work that they have done in scholarship and leadership during their four years at Muhlenberg.

Frank Newman George Hawkins Raymond Turner

Six members of the class of 1942—Raymond Turner, Edwin Wisser, Charles Keim, George Hawkins, William Kuzmiak, and Robert Laudenslager — founded the Muhlenberg Cardinal Key Society on May 28, 1940. This service organization was formed with the purpose of seeing that visitors on the college campus, such as debating teams and athletic squads, are entertained.

The members of the society also act as ushers at football games, guides during Freshmen Week, Sub-freshman Day, and Parent's Day, and aid the Junior Marshals at graduation exercises. This year the Society will do its biggest job of the year during the Bicentennial Week.

Membership is limited to fifteen. Five sophomores who have met the qualifications of the Society are initiated into the group and serve until they leave the college by graduation.

ELECTION BOARD

The Election Board came into existence with the introduction of the Proportional Representation System of Elections, as specified in the new Constitution ratified by the student body in 1939. Article II under "Duties of the Council" states that "the Student Council shall conduct and supervise all elections of classes and of other organizations which receive money from the Student Body treasury and are dependent on the Student Body."

The P. R. (Proportional Representation) system of elections as set forth in the constitution requires a competent election board to supervise its operation. Therefore in 1939 the Student Council appointed the first permanent election board, under the authority granted in Article II, Section 7, of the constitution. George Howatt, who introduced to the campus the P. R. System, was appointed chairman, and seven men proficient in P. R. operation were appointed to assist him.

Duties of the election board include receiving nominations, preparing ballots, conducting the polling, tabulating the ballots, and certifying the elected candidates. Each year also the Freshman Class is instructed in the Preferential Ballot and the rest of the P. R. System. To aid the Chairman in supervising the functions of the Board, a new position was introduced last year, that of Executive Vice-Chairman. Ed. Robertson was the first appointee to this office.

The Proportional Representation System uses the preferential ballot only. Nominations for any office are unlimited. When the first choice on a ballot is defeated, instead of exhausting the ballot as is done in other systems, the preferential ballot makes it possible for the second choice to be considered. Therefore every person voting retains voting power throughout the tabulation, although his first choice may be defeated early.

Since its inauguration there have been no functional difficulties or contested elections, and honest, accurate elections have prevailed.

Varsity "M" Club

One of the oldest organizations on the campus, the "M" Club is now in its seventeenth year of continued existence. It was organized in 1925 by Coach Wood in order to promote interest in athletics, and to create and maintain a feeling of harmony among the members of the athletic teams and the student body. Other purposes of the club are to increase the academic standards of the athletes, and to foster higher standards of sportsmanship on the campus.

Membership in the club is automatic for and limited to those who have earned their varsity letter in an intercollegiate sport and to members of the coaching staff. Members last year numbered approximately sixty.

The "M" Club serves the college in capacities other than athletic. In past years it has contributed to the support of the College Band, the Recreation Hall, and the Student Loan Fund.

A dance usually is sponsored each year by the club, and for the past several years varsity "M" Club shows have been presented which were enthusiastically received by the student body. Nelse Graham and Norman Morris, "M" Club members, were the authors and directors of these shows, and talent was taken from the "M" club and the student body. Proceeds from the show helped secure club pins for active members.

The piece de resistance of the social season, the Junior Prom of the class of 1943, attracted a capacity crowd of Muhlenberg students, alumni, and faculty members to Castle Garden for a gala evening of dancing to the music of Harry James, Public Trumpeter Number One. Vocals were by Helen Forrest and Jimmy Saunders.

The engagement of James for the affair marked the culmination of Muhlenberg's recent endeavours to provide "name-bands" for important dances. The James aggregation is known throughout the country as one of musiedom's top-flight ensembles, Harry himself having been chosen by Downbeat and Metro-nome magazines as head man in the lead trumpet division, runner-up for hot trumpet honors, and a close second to Benny Goodman as the favorite solo instrumentalist. The success of the Prom, acclaimed the best Muhlenberg has yet held, was due largely to the sagacity of the Orchestra Committee in engaging so popular a band.

The decorations of the ballroom were in a Winter Carnival motif. Blue and white streamers formed a false ceiling, and spotlights focused on a revolving globe created the illusion of falling snow. White painted trees were set against a background of blue streamers, and at the rear of the ballroom was an immense fan of streamers on which were the class numerals, '43, in the class colors, cardinal and buff. Cherished souvenirs of a memorable evening were the favors, dance programs in black and silver leather.

The Junior Prom highlighted Muhlenberg's Jamboree week-end, planned by the Student Council in cooperation with the Prom Committee. Festivities opened on Friday afternoon with the arrival of the "imports," who were quartered for the duration in the Freshman dorms and in fraternity houses. Prior to the dance Mrs. Harry A. Benfer, Mrs. Robert C. Horn, and Mrs. Levering Tyson acted as hostesses at a tea given in the West Hall reception room as a gesture of welcome to the girls.

A supper for all Jamboree-ers was held Saturday afternoon in the Commons, and the evening was climaxed by a league basketball game against Ursinus. Stimulated by a 43-32 victory over the Bears, the students and their dates made the rounds of the fraternities, which had thrown open their houses to the entire student body. Dancing continued until midnight, and light refreshments were served. The houses were attractively decorated on a St. Valentine's Day theme.

The week-end, for the outstanding success of which the Prom Committee and Student Council deserve heartiest congratulations, was brought to a fitting close Sunday morning with a service in the Gideon F. Egner Memorial Chapel.

To the sweet strains of the twin saxophones of the McFarland Brothers, the close harmony of their glee club and the vocals of Don Cornell and the Norton Sisters—the Seniors danced at the most successful Senior Ball in Muhlenberg History.

That Friday night, December 5, 1941, Castle Garden brilliantly decorated in the Christmas motif saw 250 couples in tux and tails and stunning gowns dancing and making small talk till the wee hours, close the year's social season with a Ball to linger on in their memories.

The committee deserves a great deal of credit for the success of the dance. The Muhlenberg pins given as favors were enthusiastically received, adding just the right touch to the gala festive night.

The McFarland Twins "Music styled to win" kept the dance alive, not only with their swing—sweet and hot, but with their many novelty and comedy numbers, aided by the smooth renditions of their glee club. The vocals by Don Cornell and the Norton Sisters, Betty, Grace, and Dorothy rounded out an already excellent dance combination.

The chaperons, President and Mrs. Levering Tyson, Dean and Mrs. Robert C. Horn, Freshman Dean and Mrs. Harry A. Benfer and Professor and Mrs. Truman Koehler, enjoyed the evening with as much zest as the lowliest Freshman enjoying his first college formal.

PEP COMMITTEE

Starting the season with nothing more than the usual funds from the student budget, and the half-hearted well wishes of the student body, the pep committee immediately went to work.

At first, due to the poor attendance of the upperclassmen at the meetings, it seemed that the only ones working were the members of the committee. However as the season wore on to the half-way mark, the students caught up the spirit so nobly started by the committee, and from that point the season continued in the traditional color and enthusiasm.

At the meetings favorite alumni and local friends of the college were called upon to speak, and provided the students with the necessary push. Not to be outdone, the students had their own representatives in the form of the college clowns and "screwballs," the cheerleaders, and the college band.

The highlights of the season however, were the annual bonfire before the Lehigh game, and the gala pajama parade. Despite all appearances to the contrary, the bonfire was a huge success, and the "rascals from across the valley" were unsuccessful in their attempts to set it off prematurely.

Likewise the pajama parade was a success. For the first time in the history of the college, the parade was carried out without any rowdyism. Everything was accurately timed, and everyone, frosh in pajamas, and sophs and upperclassmen with hats and canes, had a good, clean, time.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Since its start on this campus in 1930, Gamma Mu cast of Alpha Psi Omega has remained an honor fraternity for those men who have displayed exceptional skill and diligence in dramatics. Its small size is a necessary consequence of its high standards.

It is the purpose of the fraternity to provide an incentive for those students who have already shown some ability to continue their work. For those who accept the challenge, deserving work brings recognition. Actor and stagehand alike are accorded the honors due them.

The rapid rise of the local chapter has matched the rapid rise of the national fraternity to a place of prominence among all honor societies. In our own school, Alpha Psi Omega is furnishing directors and stage managers for several plays. Consisting as it does of the best men, it helps to guide the course of the Mask and Dagger. Its position secures for that club reduced royalties, limited plays, and specialized technical advice.

The continued success of various of its members in both school and community dramatics is an indication of the success of the fraternity. Many other organizations have found its members responsive to requests for assistance in their dramatic efforts. Through this expanded use of dramatics in recreation and instruction, the fraternity achieves its greatest good.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

Tau Kappa Alpha, the honorary public speaking fraternity, possesses the distinction of being Muhlenberg's first strictly honor fraternity. This year Tau Kappa Alpha gained the further distinction of being the first honor fraternity to include among its members Mrs. Levering Tyson, the First Lady of Muhlenberg College.

The fraternity was founded in 1908 by representatives of Indiana universities and colleges. Today its publication, The Speaker, goes to chapters in all the forty-eight states. Tau Kappa Alpha's national president is Lionel Crocker and the colors of the fraternity are light and dark purple.

The Muhlenberg Chapter was instituted in 1926 through the efforts of Arthur T. Gellespie, former coach of debating. He has been succeeded as advisor by Dr. John D. M. Brown and Professor Ephraim B. Everitt.

Candidates for membership are selected on the basis of scholarship and excellence in public speaking, especially debating and oratory.

In the past few years the Muhlenberg Chapter has achieved a very active program. Tau Kappa Alpha representatives assist in the conducting of the oratorical contests during the year. The fraternity supervises the Freshman Debate Tournament in the fall and sends delegates to the annual convention of the Mid-Eastern District of the organization each spring.

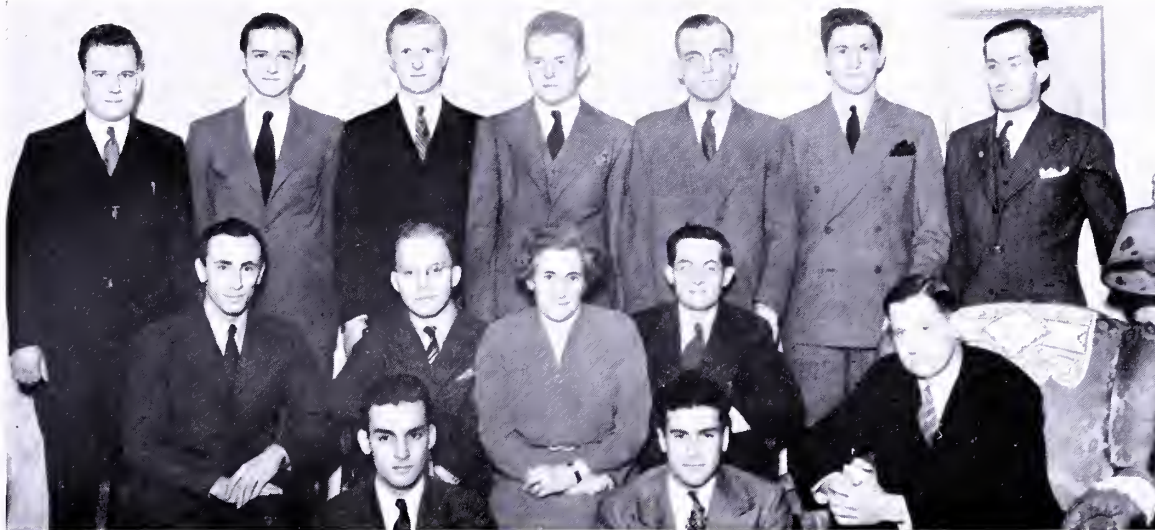

PHI SIGMA IOTA

Once again, the Lambda chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, national Romance language society, has had a most active year on the campus. This chapter, the first chapter of a national honorary language fraternity to be established here, was installed in 1928 through the efforts of Dr. Anthony S. Corbiere, head of the local department of Romance languages. The chapter is proud to claim him as Historian and editor of the national society's publication, the News-Letter.

Superior grades in the study of Romance Languages as well as the interest the student shows in them are requirements for becoming a member of the organization. Monthly meetings are held at the homes of the various professors and students.

At these meetings, a research paper is presented which is related to some subject of the Romance language countries—France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, and Rumania—after which there follows a vigorous discussion by all members present. Through these meetings are promoted friendly relations between our nation and these nations of the Old World.

The yearly picnic and banquet are events eagerly awaited and long remembered by all members. Delegates from this group are sent to the national Phi Sigma Iota convention, which is held every three years.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA

The Muhlenberg Psi chapter of Kappa Phi Kappa, professional education fraternity, was established on April 5, 1927 and expanded through the untiring efforts of Dr. Isaac Miles Wright and Dr. Carl Wright Boyer.

Its purpose is to promote the cause and interests of education, emphasizing social aptitude, scholarly achievement, and professional ideals.

The Open Book Magazine of Kappa Phi Kappa, published since October, 1922, excellently expresses the aims and ideals of the fraternity.

"If ever there was a cause, if ever there can be a cause, worthy to be upheld by all of toil or sacrifice that the human heart can endure, it is the cause of education." These sagacious words of Horace Mann apply more than ever in this crucial day and age, in which education plays such a major role. A successful war and a lasting peace can only be realized through the united effort of an intelligent, well-educated people.

Kappa Phi Kappa seeks to implant the seed of education in the mind of the undergraduate with the hope that the seed in its fertile ground will grow, blossom forth, and, through the medium of the student, propagate itself throughout the entire face of the earth. To stimulate the undergraduate's interest whole-heartedly and permanently in the exalted cause of education marks the ultimate goal at which Kappa Phi Kappa shoots straight and true.

PHI ALPHA THETA

Twenty-one years ago on the campus of the University of Arkansas, Dr. N. Andrew Cleven and a small group of history students met and organized the national history society, Phi Alpha Theta. Its growth has been rapid until now there are almost thirty chapters in fifteen states.

It was in 1929 that Dr. Henry K. Mueller founded the Kappa chapter of the national fraternity here at Muhlenberg. Since Dr. Mueller's death, Dr. Swain has carried on the work of recognizing and cultivating attainment and interest in world affairs, past and present. Of such excellence has been this work, that the Carnegie Endowment For International Peace regularly gives books and pamphlets on pertinent affairs to the organization.

Monthly meetings consist of talks and discussions by members of the faculty and students on national and international current affairs. The discussions have been especially interesting this year because of the great and rapid changes which have taken place.

This fall, the chapter sent a delegation to Lehigh for the annual Middle Atlantic International Relations Club Conference. A delegation was also sent this spring to represent the Netherlands at the Model League of Nations Assembly at Bryn Mawr.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

The only national honorary fraternity at Muhlenberg College, having the privilege of being founded on our campus is Alpha Kappa Alpha. In May, 1930, the philosophy clubs of Muhlenberg and Moravian Colleges combined to form the fraternity. Since that time four more chapters have been added.

One of the outstanding events during the early part of the academic year was a joint initiation of the neophytes of Cedar Crest and Muhlenberg College chapters at the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity house.

Under the inspiration and tutelage of our professor and friend, Rev. Russell W. Stine, Alpha Kappa Alpha has a well-knit and active organization. Impressive and learned lectures were delivered on Kirkegard by Rev. Stine, on Socrates by Dean Horn, on Lessing by Dr. Barba, and on Bahaism by Mr. Reginald King. All members of A.K.A. took part in the discussions following these treatises.

The annual convention of A.K.A.—the feature event of the year—was held at Moravian College for Men, Bethlehem, Penna. on March 28, 1942. Dr. Hornell Hart, a noted lecturer, and professor of Sociology at Duke University, was the principal speaker.

A.K.A. gives students opportunities to think more carefully and discuss more fully various philosophical systems introduced in the classroom. It enables students to express their own ideas and to formulate their own philosophies of life.

ETA SIGMA PHI

Eta Sigma Phi is an outgrowth of the oldest student organization at Muhlenberg, the Classical Club. Alpha Rho chapter of Eta Sigma Phi was granted a charter in 1932. Since that time it has shown marked increase in its membership and activities.

The purpose of the fraternity is to promote interest in Greek and Roman art and literature, and to provide association and fellowship for all the students interested in this ancient culture. Requirements for membership are high scholastic standing in all studies and a combined total of three years of study of both Latin and Greek.

Monthly meetings are held both on the campus and at the homes of members. Papers on classical subjects are read, followed by interesting discussions. Annually Alpha Rho chapter meets with Cedar Crest's Classical Club at which time a play is presented. This year Cedar Crest was our hostess at which time a Christmas play was produced in Latin with members of both groups taking part.

Most exclusive of the national council's activities this year is the sponsoring of a national essay contest. Attractive cash prizes will be awarded to the winners. The national headquarters publishes a magazine, The Nuntius, which is sent to all of the members. Although a professor recently declared the classical languages to be decadent and worthless, Eta Sigma Phi is a testimony of the life of the classics.

Omicron Delta Kappa, Intercollegiate Leadership Honor Society, was founded at the University of Washington in 1914 and made its appearance on Muhlenberg's campus in 1930 with the establishment of Alpha Epsilon Circle. The society's five ideals are character, recognition, opportunity, inspiration, and loyalty.

For membership there are five indispensable qualifications: integrity, fellowship, humility, courage, and consecration to a great purpose. Omicron Delta Kappa recognizes eminence in five phases of campus life: scholarship; athletics; social and religious activities; publications; and forensic, dramatic, musical, and other cultural activities.

Alpha Epsilon Circle's original main campus function was to act as chap-eron for events on the campus and as host for visiting groups. However, the establishment of the Cardinal Key Society allowed Alpha Epsilon to step into its present role of being an honorary society in an advisory capacity.

Although the Student Council is the official student governing body, the Council has recognized the fact that Alpha Epsilon often has superior powers because of the presence of faculty members in the organization.

The main task for Alpha Epsilon this collegiate year has been to investigate campus conditions and attempt to aid in solving them. Traditions of Muhlenberg have been scrutinized and in several cases strengthened by the work of Alpha Epsilon.

The local Alpha Iota chapter of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity is the oldest social fraternity chapter now on the Muhlenberg campus. It was established October 14, 1881, as the second chapter of Alpha Tau Omega north of the Mason-Dixon line. Since then the chapter has developed until in 1924 the cornerstone was laid for the present chapter house on the edge of the campus.

The outstanding feature of the year's social calendar was the addition of a fourth houseparty week-end, which took place this year before the other three regularly held by the chapter. The new house party, held in conjunction with the Inter-fraternity Ball during the week-end of the Lehigh football classic, joined Christmas, Winter Jamboree, and summer house parties.

During the regular fall rushing season, Alpha Iota pledged nineteen men to the group and added four more during the year. On March 21, fourteen of these men were initiated in rites held by the active chapter.

Since the accelerated program for graduation was set up by the college, the fraternity fell in line and made plans for the operation of the house during the summer months when some of the brothers will be attending the summer sessions. Many of the men have already enlisted in reserve units of the navy.

Two seniors held the responsibility for the efficient operation of the chapter during the year, Raymond Turner serving as Worthy Master during the first semester, and Burton Sexton succeeding him in this post for the second semester. Officers elected with Sexton in January were George L. Hawkins, Worthy Chaplain; Henry S. Wacker, Worthy Keeper of the Exchequer; Robert H. Wessner, Worthy Keeper of the Annals; William B. Van Ness, Worthy Scribe; F. Ernest Fellows, Worthy Usher; and Paul A. Kemmerer, Worthy Sentinel.

Rising from the ranks of non-fraternity men on Miami University's campus in Oxford, Ohio, Phi Kappa Tau organized to combat a vicious political machine. Since its founding in 1906, Phi Kappa Tau has spread over the entire country and now is comprised of a closely-knit organization of 46 chapters. The Eta Chapter, installed at Muhlenberg in 1917, had previously been the ancient Alpha Sigma local fraternity.

The Phi Kappa Tau chapter at Muhlenberg is justly proud of its honor of being the first fraternity at Muhlenberg College and the first fraternity in the National Organization to own its own house. The mortgage was burned in October 1938.

Phi Kappa Tau had a successful pledge day in the Fall, by pledging its quota of 19 men.

As a result of the national emergency forcing a drastic cutting of many expenses from the budget, it was feared that the Eta Chapter would be unable to continue its annual Christmas party for underprivileged children. However the wholehearted sentiment against the discontinuing of this program was expressed in the form of an avalanche of generous donations from the members and alumni. The Christmas party was turned into a very successful affair as a result of this action.

The main social affairs of the year were the Founder's Day Banquet and the houseparties on the Junior Prom and Senior Ball week-ends. There is also a Spring Formal held near the end of the school year.

Phi Kappa Tau men are represented in every sport at Muhlenberg College as well as the many other organizations at College. Eta Chapter has always stressed the importance of scholarship as the primary aim in a fraternity man's college life.

The story of Sigma Phi Epsilon begins on November 1, 1901 in Richmond, Virginia, home of Richmond University. Since that day the national fraternity has grown into one of the ten strongest in the country, with seventy-seven chapters from coast to coast. Each individual chapter strives to achieve the fraternity ideal of scholarship, distinction, and fellowship.

The local chapter grew from the old "Druid Club" which was organized in 1925. In 1928 the club became the Delta Beta Chapter of Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity, and when that fraternity merged with Sigma Phi Epsilon, became the Pennsylvania Iota chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The present officers are Benjamin Lewis, president; William Schneller, secretary; and Sherwood Cota, comptroller. Under their administration several pledges of much promise were admitted and a successful social program was sponsored.

In addition to their contributions of time and talent to the various activities of the school, the fraternity provided its own members with varied social events. The highlights of the year are the Inter-fraternity Ball and the "Sig Ep" Spring Formal held in April. Several house parties were also a part of our year of college life.

During the year Sigma Phi Epsilon continued to supply for its members at the house at 933 North Twenty-seventh Street an integrated scholastic, social, and recreational program. In the coming year the Pennsylvania Iota Chapter will endeavor to maintain those ideals and traditions which have brought it to its present place in the life of the campus. As never before, the present state of affairs has shown the need for vital fraternity affiliations, and the chapter will strive to maintain its support of the college and country.

Begun as a dream of alumni and achieved through the efforts of a few men, Nu Epsilon chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha was founded on the campus in September, 1940. It was chartered as a result of the merging of Delta Theta and the Philos Club with Theta Kappa Nu, which in turn joined with Lambda Chi Alpha in the largest merger the Greek world has known.

Nu Epsilon, the youngest fraternity chapter on the campus, has grown rapidly, nearly doubling its membership since last May. In its second year on the campus, the local chapter of the third largest national fraternity initiated and pledged a total of twenty-five men.

Robert Neumeyer, Abram Lydecker, and William Kuzmiak were delegates at the bi-annual Lambda Chi Alpha convention at Excelsior Springs, Mo., during the last week of August. There Nu Epsilon was praised for its speedy growth and excellent alumni support.

Included as important dates on Nu Epsilon's social calendar were the annual Founder's Day banquet in October, Mothers' Day party, Brother-Pledge banquets, and house parties held in conjunction with the Inter-fraternity Ball, Senior Ball, Junior Prom, and Inaugural Ball. The Spring Formal is a fitting climax to the year's social calendar.

Nu Epsilon is proud of Brothers Lydecker, Kidd, and Busby who were nominated for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Brother Busby was also elected life-president of the class of '42, and Brother Kidd was elected life-secretary. Officers elected in January for the fiscal year are the following: President, William Muchlhauser; Vice-President, Robert Minogue; Secretary, Richard Kinard; Treasurer, Jack Clifford; Social Chairman, Frederick Roediger; and ritual advisor, William Somerville. Professor Truman Koehler was initiated into the local chapter and was elected faculty advisor.

Alpha Nu chapter of Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity celebrated its tenth anniversary this year with a comparatively small but very able group of men which won honors from the Grand Council of the Fraternity as well as from the Inter-fraternity Council of the college.

The national honors consisted of honorable mention by the Grand Council in the Fraternity's annual inter-chapter activities competition. College honors consisted of the semi-annual award for scholarship, a large loving cup, given by the Inter-fraternity Council to the fraternity with the highest scholastic average. Likewise, the pledge group took campus scholastic honors by winning the pledge paddle awarded to the fraternity pledge group with the highest scholastic average.

Handicapped by the loss of several fratres by graduation and transfer, Alpha Nu nevertheless was able to maintain representation in almost every phase of campus activity—scholastic, social, and athletic. These covered a wide scope, ranging from Dean's list and chess club to varsity basketball. The pledge class, this year composed entirely of freshmen, followed suit and participated in almost every activity open to first-year men. These activities likewise ranged from Dean's list to freshman football and basketball.

Officers for the past year have been: Superior, Bertram Levinstone; Vice Superior, Charles Burrell; Secretary, Edward Halperin; Corresponding Secretary, Milton Donin; Treasurer, Howard Yarus; and Chaplain, Harold Krevsky. Levinstone, Donin, and Burrell made up the three-man delegation to the Inter-fraternity council. Chapter adviser is Muhlenberg alumnus Irvin Shipkin, Allentown.

The local chapter, formerly the Gamma chapter of Sigma Lambda Pi Fraternity, became affiliated with Phi Epsilon Pi in February of 1932 when Sigma Lambda Pi became non-existent. Phi Epsilon Pi, with a chapter roll of over thirty, is one of the largest and foremost Jewish fraternities in the country.

America answers the call

MILLIONS UNDER ARMS—the fastest, hardest-hitting fighting machine the world has ever known! That is the goal, as America's youth rallies to the call . . . hurrying from the farms, towns, and cities all the way from Maine to California, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf.

There's Tom, from down the block . . . Bill, and George, and Jack, who left good jobs . . . your friends, neighbors, brothers. They're going . . . going eagerly so that America, our free America, will remain forever free.

And YOU, who'd like to join them, and can't . . . what about you? You can help by continuing your studies—working harder than ever before and by buying War Stamps, and maybe Bonds, to the very limit of your powers.

So let's all answer the call with every last dime and dollar that we can, even if it means going without things . . . remembering that we will go without everything, including our cherished freedom, if the Axis is not crushed, now and for all time!
